End is in sight for traffic scheme

RESIDENTS in Rugeley have welcomed the news that the end is in sight for long-running roadworks.

The Horse Fair scheme has caused chaos for the past nine months but is expected to finish in August.

Some people have claimed the scheme is potentially dangerous and unnecessary. Lanes are being reduced and traffic lights are being added to improve traffic flow into the town.

But people say the work has caused traffic problems ever since.

Rugeley Town Council chairman John Rowley said: "We are looking forward to the end of the works. It has been a bit of a long haul."

Certain

"It is really starting to take shape. A lot of people will be pleased to hear the project is nearly finished."

"I'm almost certain it will be a big improvement."

Councillor Mark Deaville, cabinet support member for transport, said the end was finally in sight. He said: "The Horse Fair project has been a significant scheme and will make a huge difference to the town."

"We are aiming to have the temporary traffic lights removed by the end of July and hope to complete the project at the end of August."

Roadworks set to begin

A 10-WEEK scheme to improve pavements along a main road in Burntwood starts next week.

The £125,000 investment will see resurfacing of the pavements and new kerbs installed on Chase Road, between the Hospital Road and Cannock Road junctions.

Work will start on Monday, June 16 and take place on week days between 8am and 5pm.

The project is due to finish on Friday, August 22.

COLLEGE STAFF FACING JOB AXE

Report by Adam Burling

A COLLEGE with 20,000 students has announced it is axing jobs - just months after 70 staff were made redundant.

South Staffordshire College - which has campuses in Cannock, Lichfield, Penkridge and Tamworth - says it is being forced to slash jobs due to Government funding cuts.

Bosses say the college is 'dealing with a succession of funding reductions' and say it is not yet known how many posts will go. They insist the majority could be voluntary redundancies. Nearly 1,000 people who work at the college have been told. Chiefs are now working out where the axe could fall.

College spokesman Lester Dinnie said: "The college puts students at the heart of everything we do and we appreciate that the quality of our staff is a major factor in that relationship."

"The measures we have outlined are designed to offer a number of alternative forms of working together with collaboration on cost savings."

"The quality of teaching and learning will remain unchanged. Indeed with many of the innovations in digital technologies that we are pioneering, we expect to continue to make advances in the learning and teaching experience on all our campuses."

Savings

COUNCILLORS and union chiefs have raised fears over the burden placed on volunteers being asked to man libraries.

More than half of Staffordshire's libraries will no longer be run by the county council, under plans to save £1.3 million over three years. Concerns have been raised over the expectations being placed on volunteers.

The full impact on library staff has not been revealed but council chiefs admit positions will be at risk if proposals go ahead. Under the proposals, 24 libraries would be run by volunteers. Fifteen would be classed as 'core libraries', or ones where services are provided by the county council. These include Cannock and Rugeley.

Brereton, Heath Hayes, Hednesford, Norton Canes, Cheslyn Hay and Penkridge are among those earmarked as suitable to be run by community groups.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said: "There are only so many volunteers and the county council seems to expect them to run county council services."

Staffordshire Unison branch secretary Steve Elsey said: "We are very concerned, not just for the employment of staff but the future of what the service will look like."

A 12-week consultation is taking place.

Thumbs up to honour Stephen

Joanne Jarvis, Kate Hadley and Amanda Mayling promote the mini-festival

A MUSIC festival takes place this weekend in aid of the Teenage Cancer Trust and to honour Stephen Sutton.

Around 5,000 people are expected at the Thumbs up for Stephen mini-festival at Burntwood Rugby Club on Saturday.

Organisers Kate Hadley, Amanda Mayling and Joanne Jarvis, all of Burntwood, hope it will raise more than £30,000 in memory of the 19-year-old. It takes place between noon and midnight and will feature bands including the Bon Jovi Experience, U2UK and The Assist as well as a bouncy castle, face painting, magician, stilt-walkers and a laser show.

Wristbands are £8 adults, £4 for children and £20 for a family of four. Prices on the door will be £10 adults, £5 for children and £25 for a family.

For wristbands, call 07929 764663.

Further doubts on plan to save MIU

THE future of Cannock's under-threat minor injuries unit hangs in the balance again.

It comes after a rescue plan was put off following criticism of the scheme as 'wishy-washy' and 'woolly'.

GPs have offered to take over the service from September 1, taking it in turns to provide afternoon appointments while organising an out-of-hours provider for evenings and weekends.

But county health bosses deferred a decision. They say they want to see more details. A workshop with GPs in the Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group is to be set up.

Delayed

CCG boss Andrew Donald warned they may lose out financially if a decision is delayed for too long. He has asked for a one-month consultation instead of three.

The redesigned service would be called the Minor Illnesses Unit. Councillor Robert Marshall called the plan 'innovative'.

Committee chairman Councillor Kath Perry labelled the report 'woolly' and Cannock member Chris Mitchell attacked the proposal for being too vague.

"She said: 'As it stands, this report is too wishy-washy. There's not enough detail for us to discuss it properly.'"

MP in health centre talks

TORY MP Michael Fabricant has called an 'urgent' meeting with Government health ministers after a health centre planned for Burntwood was scrapped.

The Lichfield MP said: "We need to move on with alternative plans."

"I have called for an urgent meeting with health ministers and have asked for a detailed written explanation as to why the health centre was rejected."

Seats refurbished in town theatre

A POPULAR theatre is to undergo a revamp costing thousands of pounds.

Rugeley Town Council wants to refurbish the seats in the Rose Theatre, which as well as hosting shows and concerts, is also used by a number of community groups.

Work on the 210-seater theatre is expected to cost in the region of around £13,000, with funds expected to come from council reserves. The authority is currently seeking quotations from firms and said the work was expected to be carried out between bookings and shows, meaning the theatre would not have to close.

The seats and arm pads are to be removed, re-upholstered and reinstalled. Councillor Geoff Martin, chairman of the Rose Committee on Rugeley Town Council, said: "The seats needs to be renewed as they have deteriorated.

"We are getting quotes for the job. It's going to cost around £13,000."

The venue, in Taylors Lane, is also used by various community groups including Rowlands Rose Theatre group, Stars Dance Academy and Rugeley Musical Society.

Weight loss groups and fitness classes are also hosted in the building, which is owned by Cannock Chase District Council and leased to Rugeley Town Council.

Management of the theatre is outsourced to Starlite Events Ltd.

Councillor John Rowley, chairman of Rugeley Town Council, said: "This is part of the general maintenance. In a place that big maintenance is ongoing all of the time."

Red tape delays move to dissolve health trust

THE trust that runs Stafford and Cannock hospitals is to be dissolved a month later than originally planned.

The University Hospital of North Staffordshire will now take over running the services of Stafford Hospital and the Royal Wolverhampton Trust will take over the running of Cannock Chase Hospital in November, administrators have confirmed.

Francis on board of watchdog

THE man who led the public inquiry into appalling care at Stafford Hospital has been appointed to the board of a health watchdog.

Barrister Robert Francis QC has been named as a non-executive director of the Care Quality Commission (CQC).

His inquiry exposed shocking standards of care and neglect of patients at Stafford where hundreds of patients were made to suffer and even died.

He said: "The CQC has a vital contribution to make towards people getting safe, compassionate and effective care.

"I am pleased to see that many of the recommendations I made in my reports of Mid Staffordshire for cultural change in the healthcare system and the CQC itself are being adopted.

"I hope to make a positive contribution to the work of the CQC, supporting its current direction of travel and representing its work and its continuing development as a role model of transparency and openness."

Mr Francis made 290 recommendations to reform the NHS with the Government supporting all but nine. He continues to practise as a barrister in medical law.

All staff will know their fate by the end of this month and all those being transferred will keep the same pay and job conditions but some workers will be asked to take on different roles.

Originally the transfer was earmarked for October but has been delayed by a procedural hitch that needs both the House of Commons and House of Lords to be sitting.

A statement from the administrators Alan Bloom, Hugo Mascie-Taylor and Alan Hudson said: "We fully comprehend the fragile state of the Trust, and are equally aware of the need to achieve the transfer of services quickly, which is why we were originally seeking to transfer services and dissolve the Trust on October 1.

"However, the revised date of the start of November reflects a legal technicality in relation to the dissolution process. It is no reflection on the tremendous hard work that everyone continues to do in preparation for the separation of services.

"Please note that the hospitals will remain open as a result of the management of Stafford Hospital transferring to UHNS and the management of Cannock Chase Hospital transferring to RWT. Patients should continue to attend the hospitals as normal.

"We anticipate the announcement of these developments will help to reduce the uncertainty for all."

Summerhouse wows judges

David Quinn of Burntwood in his award-winning summer house

A BURNTWOOD resident has been commended for his interior design skills as part of a national competition. David Quinn was given recognition for the colourful and relaxing interior of his summerhouse.

He was awarded second prize, beating 240 others, in the Dunster House Great British Garden Retreat competition. It invited summerhouse and log cabin owners from across the country to submit their personal designs.

Ian Blazeby, marketing manager of the log cabin and shed creators Dunster House, said: "David's summerhouse really struck us as its design used strong flashes of colour in neutral setting to really bring the space alive."

David and wife Susan assembled the summerhouse together and spent two weeks modifying, painting and furnishing it.

David said: "I'm really proud that our designs have sparked the imagination of the judges. It's like a little haven for us and we love it."

Queen's Speech hailed by MP Burley

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has hailed the Queen's Speech as 'the next big step in this Government's long-term economic plan to secure a better and brighter future for Britain'.

The speech included plans for giant 'pooled' pension schemes with the potential to boost chances of a better retirement income.

Mr Burley said: "The proposed changes to our pensions system will give people local people in Cannock Chase who work hard and do the right thing more security in their retirement.

"The current tax rules stifle innovation in the retirement income market, leaving pension savers with very little choice over how to spend or invest their defined contribution savings.

"The changes proposed in the Pensions Tax Bill will create a much more competitive and dynamic retirement income market.

"Businesses across Cannock Chase will also benefit from the introduction of the new Small Business Enterprise and Employment Bill which is specifically designed to address many of the key concerns they have around prompt payment, access to finance and procurement."

Public to be quizzed on polling stations

COUNCILLORS are asking the public for their views on polling stations across Cannock Chase district.

At present there are 77 polling stations situated in more than 50 different locations across the district. These are in such places as schools, community centres, and church halls.

The public is now being asked to give their views on the suitability of the polling station they last used.

The council is required by law to review all polling places before the next Parliamentary election to ensure that electors have access to reasonable facilities for voting. This includes making sure the buildings have disabled access.

Democratic services manager Steve Partridge said: "We want to ensure it's as easy as possible for residents to vote in elections.

"We'd welcome any suggestions for alternative locations that may be more suitable than any we currently use."

Residents have until July 31 to give their views at: www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/pollingreview

The chief executive will consider the responses, add his own comments and report back to Full Council ahead of a final decision.

Youngsters in visit to council chamber

Chancel Primary pupils and staff with Councillors Grice, Lovett and Adamson

PUPILS from Rugeley were given a tour of Cannock Chase Council's chamber.

The youngsters, members of the School Council at Chancel Primary, learned about the work the authority does and its political structure.

The pupils, aged between eight and 11, were welcomed by council chairman Doris Grice and took part in a budget setting activity delivered by the council's Parks and Open Spaces team and ProLudic. The children designed a play area within an allocated budget.

They quizzed portfolio holders about what their roles entailed before putting Cabinet members through their paces with a lengthy debate about local issues affecting them.

Councillor Andy Lovell, leader for corporate improvement, said: "I hope they gained an understanding about what the council does and the role it plays."

Adam Dickerson, of ProLudic said: "I really enjoyed running the workshop with the children. It was great to see them having fun and working as a team."

School headteacher Tina Blankley said: "This was a fantastic opportunity for our children to experience how decisions, regarding the local community, are made."

Grieving wife promised action by health bosses

By Adam Thompson

'IF speaking about what we went through has helped one family then it will be worth it.'

Those are the words of Linda Aitchison, who lost her beloved husband Neil two years ago.

He died at New Cross Hospital in Wolverhampton at the age of 44 from malignant melanoma, six months after being told he had three months to live.

But it was his treatment while at the hospital which has led Mrs Aitchison from Cheslyn Hay to speak out.

The mother of twin girls Melissa and Emily says her husband's Kindle was stolen from his bedside, and claims there were rows between workers over his care and that he was refused a shower, suffered a fall and was left in a bed with food around his face.

Mr Aitchison died on May 13 2012 and New Cross Hospital issued an apology after investigating complaints from his wife which ran for five pages.

Mrs Aitchison, a director of The Market-ing Room in Cannock, says it hit her hard after his death.

Victims

She said: "One thing that Neil said to me and the girls was he didn't want us to be victims. But after he died I found it difficult.

"I was diagnosed with post-traumatic stress disorder and I couldn't get the image of how he was treated out of my head.

"I was seeing how others were dealing with problems with such bravery and I'd ask 'why am I not there yet?'

"I suffered sleepless nights, I was in a feeling of shock. I kept playing over one incident when I asked one nurse for details of Neil only to be told 'who is Neil?'

"I couldn't get away from the fact that my husband was spending his final week being treated this way."

Following his death Mrs Aitchison went to South Africa where she worked with orphaned children and helped provide care.

Closer to home she said she was given 'fantastic support' from St Giles Hospice and from Compton Hospice in Wolverhampton who helped her during her husband's treatment and during the grief process. She also began a blog where she shared her thoughts and feelings as she grieved. She added: "I kept thinking 'is there something wrong here? Am I making a fuss over something which isn't there?'

Linda Aitchison of Cheslyn Hay, with a photo of her late husband Neil. She is unhappy about the treatment he received in hospital

"Then the response from people who saw me talk made me realise I was right and it may sound strange but I felt like punching the air.

"It felt like someone had turned on a tap and all my emotion came out," she added.

"There are people telling me they how their loved-ones had similar experience in hospital in other parts of the country. They were congratulating me on being strong.

"If speaking about what we went through has helped one family avoid the agony of seeing their loved one treated with such a lack of compassion then it will be worth it.

"It has given me strength and without doubt it has helped the healing process."

The Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust (RWT) which runs New Cross Hospital said it wrote to Mrs Aitchison in September 2012 to apologise and update her on the investigation into her complaints and actions taken as a result.

Health bosses say action so far taken includes additional training for all nurses treating patients with a life-limiting illness, protocols being put in place to prevent a recurrence or issues relating to rehydration, the implementation of scheduled comfort rounds on wards to ensure regular contact between nursing staff and patients and sharing Mrs Aitchison's complaints with staff around the trust.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

THIS is a lost cause but, as the flag-waving intensifies, I will make the point once again. The flag of England is the red cross of St George on a white background. That is all. It does not have "England" written across it.

THE newly refurbished terminal at Heathrow will be known as The Queen's Terminal. Sounds like a gloomy prognosis.

IF you believe everything you read, you may think that a couple of years from now the Government is to launch a new, simple state pension of about £150 a week for everyone. Think again. And ask yourself this: with the obvious exception of politicians, has anything simple ever come out of Whitehall? Of course not. The Civil Service does not do simple. It creates magnificent careers and builds mighty empires on complexity. Consider these two statements from the Government's own website: 1) The full new State Pension will be no less than £148.40 per week. 2) The amount you get can be higher or lower depending on your National Insurance record. So in others words, you will definitely get £148.40 but, er, you might not. It all depends on private pension funds being contracted out, or in, and other bewildering stuff. Far from being simple, the New State Pension is so damn complicated that they have set up a special phone-back service to give people a pension forecast. You ring them with your details and they call back a week later with the good (or bad) news. Except that they may not. My phone-back appointment was fixed between 8-10am one morning this week. With nine minutes to go, at 9.51am a lady rang to say sorry, but the system had crashed. The next convenient date was June 23. I wonder how much of that £148.40 per week will go straight into the vast and ruinously expensive Whitehall machine.

ALL this digital stuff is very clever but there are times when you can't beat newsprint. Newspaper articles on the D-Day 70th anniversary will be saved in millions of households and lovingly folded away with Granddad's medal ribbons and yellowing photos, in the hope that future generations will be interested. True, you can save such things on memory sticks and CDs. But technology changes and today's state-of-the-art gizmos will become about as useful as a floppy disc. Ink on paper is for ever.

AND if you despair of today's kids ever showing interest or respect for the sacrifices of two world wars, just give them time. I recall one trip to Normandy when the middle-aged men on the coach were having a right old rant about the youth of today. It turned out that those respectable gentlemen, the salt of the earth who solemnly bowed their heads at the cemeteries had once been, without exception, Teddy Boys.

THE European Commission says Britain should improve its economy by curbing the Help-to-Buy project and bumping up council tax. Always good to be advised by the experts, isn't it? This, of course, is the same Commission whose EU budget has yet to satisfy its own auditors and whose member states include some of the worst basket-case economies in the world. After the European Commission's advice on economics, watch out for North Korea's forthcoming lecture to Britain on canine welfare.

GEORGE Bernard Shaw - patron saint of sub-editors. In his 1912 play Pygmalion, Shaw describes Professor Henry Higgins trying to improve Eliza Doolittle's diction by reciting: "The rain in Spain stays mainly in the plain" (which Lerner and Lowe later incorporated in the hit musical My Fair Lady). Then, this week, the Spanish king announced his abdication and thousands of sub-editors realised this was a story about, wait for it, a reign in Spain. You probably saw the results. Headline heaven.

Roger Blighty ready to 'take to the air' at The Rugeley Charter Fair

Charter Fair reigns as town braves elements

by Marion Brennan

THOUSANDS braved the soggy weather to enjoy Rugeley's historic annual Charter Fair - after organisers held their nerve to stage the event.

Around 5,000 people attended the event, which kicked off with a parade from the power station to Hagley Park playing fields. But that was 3,000 fewer than last year.

It is thought an incorrect Facebook message saying the fair had been cancelled was partly responsible. A girl guide pack who had been due to take part in parade did not turn up for that reason.

Rugeley Town Council chairman John Rowley paid tribute to those who did attend, saying: "They were very brave given the conditions and we are very grateful to them. People ended up looking like drowned rats but they soldiered on."

"It was tough and go as to whether to go ahead but so much organising had gone into it, and people were coming from so far, that we felt we couldn't."

Highlights

"I'm really glad we stuck to our guns because it was a great day. By the end it was unbelievably hot."

"We had to tow a couple of vehicles out but it could have been a lot worse."

Organisers chose the centenary of the start of the First World War as this year's theme. One of the highlights was the presence of a re-enactment group who travelled from Norfolk.

Dressed in wartime uniforms, they mingled with visitors, while a period Red Cross station and soup tent were also set up.

The theme continued in the parade, with Chancel Primary winning the cup for best float and Western Springs Primary taking the plaque for the best walking group.

Visitors enjoyed live music and a motorcycle display from youngsters aged as young as five up to 16.

40 years of St John branch is celebrated

A VILLAGE branch of a life-saving charity has celebrated its ruby anniversary.

The Penkridge Division of St John Ambulance has been serving the community since 1974 and past and present members joined in the celebrations.

They reminisced about the charity's operation in and around the village over the past 40 years, while a DVD charted the highlights of the past four decades.

The branch currently has nine adult members along with healthy Cadet and Badger groups who continue to serve the village and surroundings.

The years of service, achieved by nine volunteers, adds up to 200.

Pet Hughes, founder and still serving member said: "A lovely evening was had by all and we hope to continue the good work for many more years to come."

"New members are always welcome to come and join our small friendly group," she added.

Tales told of war heroines

VISITORS to Cannock Library can hear the inspiring tales of two heroic Great War heroines next week.

The first is that of English nurse Edith Cavell, who sacrificed her life helping to save many British soldiers as they escaped from occupied Belgium.

Professional storyteller Julie Ann Cooper will relate her tale to celebrate both the 100 years since the conflict began and Adult Learners' Week. It takes place in Manor Avenue on Monday, June 16, from 1-3pm.

The second tale centres on ambulance driver Lady Dorothea Fielding who was awarded the Military Medal for her bravery as well as the Croix de Guerre and the Belgium Order of Leopold.

The talks are free but booking is essential on 01543 510372.

Summer fete

A SUMMER fete with craft stalls, refreshments, a raffle and tombola takes place on Saturday (June 14). It is being staged by the Burntwood & District branch of the Royal British Legion at the Scout Hut, Ironstone Road, Chase Terrace from 2-4pm. Entry is free.

Police in witness plea after assault

POLICE are appealing for witnesses to an assault that took place near Rugeley last month.

The 31-year-old victim fractured his ankle after falling to the floor following the attack in an alleyway leading to The Green in Brereton. He also suffered minor facial injuries and was taken to Stafford Hospital. The incident happened between 6.30pm and 6.45pm on Wednesday, May 14.

Police say the offender was part of a group and asked the victim, who is from Rugeley, for a cigarette as he entered a shop in Redbrook Lane. After leaving the shop and walking down the alleyway, he assaulted from behind.

The suspect is a white male aged 16-18, 5 ft 8ins to 5 ft 9ins tall, of medium build. He wore distinctive black tracksuit trousers with a blue panel running up the side of the leg with a bronze/gold and ivy pattern.

"We're keen to speak to anyone who saw the suspect or group in question," said a police spokesman.

Any with information is asked to call Pc Sally Dean on 101, quoting incident number 640 of May 14, or call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Students try hand at painting contest

Students Joshua, Gareth, Charles and Mario

CONSTRUCTION students from South Staffordshire College have taken part in a prestigious painting and decorating competition.

Charles Boyles from Stafford, Gareth Rowley and Joshua Gittings from Cannock and Mario Savva from Cheslyn Hay competed in a qualifying heat for the Johnstone's Young Painter of the Year.

The competition celebrates young talent, promotes best practice and encourages young people to pursue a career in the decorating industry. The students are currently studying for their Level 1 Painting & Decorating diploma at the college's Progress Centre in Cannock and were entered into the competition by tutor Phil Bogacki.

Launched in 2005, the competition consists of a series of regional heats and a national final.

It assesses students' painting and decorating skills including setting out a design, working to a technical specification, applying different types of paint, selecting and using application tools and applying stencils.

The one-day heats take place at various locations around the UK with winners from each heat receiving a prize of £100 and qualifying for the national final.

The ultimate winner will receive a package of prizes worth £2,000 and be crowned "Johnstone's Young Painter of the Year".

The four South Staffordshire students received excellent feedback from judges as well as a goody bag.

Mr Bogacki said: "I was confident the students would do well."

Improvement needed at school, say inspectors

A HIGH school has been told it needs to improve following an inspection by Ofsted.

Norton Canes High School, in Burntwood Road, which has 422 pupils on roll, was given the status 'requiring improvement' after a visit by inspectors from the education watchdog.

The report highlighted that students were not progressing well in maths and English and that youngsters weren't being pushed to reach their full potential.

Bull called to bar for World Cup

ENGLAND heroes will be guests at a Cannock sports bar during the country's World Cup games.

Steve Bull will appear at Bar Sport in High Green as England begin their campaign against Italy on Saturday (June 14).

He will be joined by other former Wolves players Steve Daley and compere Steve Kindon. Cost is £35 and includes a four course meal.

European Cup winning keeper Alex Stepney guests for the Uruguay clash on Thursday, June 19, with 1966 squad member Norman Hunter the star attraction for the June 24 game versus Costa Rica.

Bar Sport owner Scott Murray said: "The atmosphere over there will be incredible. We want to try and recreate a similar atmosphere at Bar Sport."

"We won't just be celebrating the England games though."

"We will be showcasing all of the World Cup games throughout the tournament. It is going to be a fantastic summer of football."

To book a table call 01543 572092.

It said progress in English and maths was weak and required improvement. But otherwise, the students' progress had 'accelerated sharply'.

It states: "Marking in many subjects does not provide enough guidance to help students improve and in some instances, expectations of what students can achieve are too low."

Decisive

"The sixth form requires improvement because, although standards are rising, many students do not make the expected progress."

The report adds headteacher Sara Birchall 'enjoys the confidence of the school community' and has 'taken decisive action to deal with poor performance'.

In a letter to all parents, she said: "I would like to thank all pupils, staff, parents and governors who demonstrated a real pride in our school during the inspection."

"Inspectors noted that the progress of the students currently in the school has 'accelerated sharply and is now in line with expectation'."

"We will continue to work hard to improve areas identified by Ofsted and strive to achieve and exceed the national averages across all areas."

Views sought as plans on display

Library assistant Louise Booth looks at an illustrative layout of the Pye Green Valley development on display

PLANS to build hundreds of homes in Hednesford have gone on display. Developers are now asking the public for their views on the application.

Housebuilder Persimmon Homes already has permission to create a new housing estate at Pye Green Valley, creating 450 new homes.

Detailed plans went on display at Hednesford Library last week.

The site earmarked for housing, controversially sold by Staffordshire County Council, was the location of the former West Cannock Collieries. The deal sparked anger among residents and councillors at the time, who argued it should have been kept as open space.

Developers have also planned for a children's playground and areas of open space.

Tim Brickley, director in charge at Persimmon Homes West Midlands, said: "We want to give the public an opportunity to air their views on our reserved matters planning application for this location." He added Pye Green Valley had been identified for development and currently had outline consent for new housing.

"As a responsible builder, we want to be certain that our application for the more detailed reserved matters aspects of this planning consent are brought to the attention of the local community it will serve," he added.

The development will provide more than 50 full time construction jobs, including apprenticeship schemes.

Market to promote worthwhile causes

It is not disclosing at this stage where the new depots will be located.

Formula One currently has 60 sites across the country employing 450.

IN MY VIEW

WITH MARK ANDREWS

ONE of the men at the centre of the Trojan Horse scandal, where certain schools in Birmingham are alleged to have been infiltrated by Muslim extremists, is an Australian called Sheikh Shady.

Of course, if true, the allegations are no laughing matter. But if you want to be taken seriously as an international preacher of hate, isn't it better to change your name to something that doesn't make you sound like an Eminem tribute act?

MORE words of wisdom from the ever lovable Katie Hopkins, who has decided to target Britain's old folk with her latest diatribe. Apparently, they get in her way, particularly when fumbling for their change in the supermarket, and says 'society has tried giving old people the hint that they are not wanted.'

"What's the point in living longer if all we're going to do is get in the way or sit in expensive nursing homes unable to recognise our own reflection in the mirror?", she asks, adding that she hopes to be 'bumped off' before she ever reaches old age.

Now how does the old saying go - prevention is better than cure?

DRINKING red wine improves your memory, according to a new study by a university with a very long name in Berlin. The study added that it can improve short-term recall and increase concentration.

Meanwhile, drinking lots of beer can...sorry, what was I saying? Oh yes, drinking red wine improves your memory.

Professor Sara Mills, a discourse researcher at Sheffield Hallam University, said pupils could instead refer to their teachers by their first names.

I don't know what a 'discourse researcher' is, but I would imagine it is something along the lines of a teacher who doesn't actually teach. Well not children, anyway.

But while the battle lines are now being drawn between the 'progressives' and the 'traditionalists', has nobody ever thought that the sensible course of action would be somewhere in the middle.

How about teachers tell the youngsters what their full names are, and then explain to them that they have to address them as 'Sir' or 'Miss' because the teachers are figures of authority, and the pupils are their subordinates?

Giving the children a lesson in the conventions they will have to adhere to in life outside the classroom is surely more useful than inviting them to take part in a guessing game about 'what Miss is really called'.

D-Day veterans in heroes' return

Veterans returned to the scene to mark 70 years since D-Day. DANIEL WAINWRIGHT reports

A SPITFIRE plane escorted a group of West Midlands war veterans back to Normandy for the 70th anniversary of the D-Day landings.

Meanwhile others who went to France were greeted as heroes by schoolchildren who wanted to pose for pictures with them.

Ken Reynolds, aged 90, from Hednesford, Geoff Ensor, 90, of Merry Hill, Wolverhampton, 88-year-old Ron Davies from Walsall and Frank Corbett from Bloxwich were part of a group of 31 people flown into Normandy in 10 private jets organised by the millionaire advertising agency boss Trevor Beattie.

And as a special surprise the veterans were accompanied part of the way by a Spitfire.

Milestone

Funds were raised through Birmingham-born Mr Beattie's charity, the Jack and Ada Beattie Foundation.

Working with comedian Eddie Izzard, Mr Beattie helped to raise funds to make sure veterans could make the trip back for the milestone occasion.

Another group of six West Midlands war veterans also travelled over with a group from the ACE Academy in Tipton.

Joe Davies, a 91-year-old former police superintendent from Compton, served with the Royal Army Service Corps.

He spent last Thursday in Arromanches where children ran up to veterans and asked to kiss them on the cheek.

The Prince of Wales meets Normandy veterans of the Glider Pilot Regiment at Pegasus Bridge, Normandy

He said: "It's very emotional. It is a fantastic atmosphere and I've never seen anything like it.

"There are so many people who have wanted to take photographs with us.

"Children have been coming up to say 'thank you very much'. We're going to Caen where we will lay wreaths.

"It is our privilege and honour to be here."

Others with Mr Davies were Arthur Jones, aged 88 from Pendeford, 91-year-old Stanley Caldicott, from Warley, who served with the RAF, and Dennis Moodie, also 91 and from Lichfield, who was a Royal Artillery wireless operator with the 94th field regiment and Dennis Thompson, aged 88 and from Muxton in Telford.

The 70th anniversary of D-Day proved the last formal event for the Normandy Veterans Association.

On Thursday, the Princess Royal led tributes to the heroes who took part and the many who died in the landings in 1944.

Anne, commodore in chief of the Royal Navy in the Portsmouth area, attended a drumhead service on Southsea Common, Portsmouth, along with veterans and serving members of the armed forces. It included a demonstration of a beach assault by British Marines and their Dutch counterparts.

Following a rendition of the Last Post, a silence was held to remember those who died in the landings and the service concluded with the National Anthem.

Matthew Guymer, 90, a former Mayor of Stafford, who served as a major with the 11th Hussars Prince Albert's Own, said: "I think it's the last time I will be able to come down at my age. I am very proud and I am delighted to have the opportunity to meet the other veterans."

POLITICS

WITH DANIEL WAINWRIGHT

I don't suppose you get much time for reading," one MP said to me this week.

It turns out this particular Parliamentarian, speaking off the record, does at the moment.

I've been recommended the Robert Harris novel, An Officer And A Spy, which the anonymous MP has managed to race through thanks to an unusually long prorogation of Parliament (if we were unkind we might say 'holiday').

When Her Majesty's official State Opening of Parliament contained a speech of merely 10 minutes there were claims that the Coalition Government had 'run out of steam'. But with an election next year the Coalition also cannot risk running out of time for any crucial legislation to get through both Houses.

Labour MP Ian Austin has called for a referendum on Europe to be held before the next election.

His stance is at odds with his own party, which only considers a referendum necessary if there is a transfer of powers to Brussels. Like it or not, the rise of UKIP means the Tories and eventually Labour are going to have to grasp this nettle. David Cameron says he'll do it by the end of 2017 but only if he wins the next election.

Dudley North MP Ian Austin's plan, while not popular with either of the big parties, would mean whoever wins next year governs knowing whether or not they are going to have to withdraw Britain from the union. If the referendum is delayed, the next five years will mean the Government having to come up with a plan for each eventuality.

Well at least it would give them something to do.

Dudley South MP Chris Kelly has extended an olive branch to newly-elected Labour and UKIP councillors and offered to work with them. He's sent his contact details and even goes far enough to say what many Tories dare not: "UKIP are our political cousins."

UKIP loves to say how it takes votes off Labour as much as from the Tories, evidenced by its council seat gains in areas like Coseley.

The big picture shows it's the Tories who suffer most. Tony Blair won three terms because he appealed to the centre ground, as opposed to core Labour supporters. What Chris Kelly is doing now is talking about how he shares 'somewhere in the region of three-quarters of the views of the UKIP councillors elected'.

He will have to avoid appearing to dilute the things that attracted former Labour voters to him in the first place. But if the Tories want to neutralise UKIP the election will be fought not on the centre ground, but on common ground.

Family takes aim for the perfect send-off

WHEN shooting enthusiast Ray Probert told his family he wanted his ashes to be packed into clay pigeons, they weren't sure if it was even possible.

Mr Probert, of Rugeley, ran a gun shop in his hometown. But when the 63-year-old father-of-three died following a two-year battle with Non-Hodgkin lymphoma, his family knew they had to carry out his dying wish.

Mr Probert's daughter Cassie, her mother Jill, 62, brother Bruce, 33 and sister Amy, set out to make his unconventional wish become a reality.

They contacted Oakledge Shooting Ground in Wolsley Bridge, which got behind the family and helped give Mr Probert the send off he had wanted.

Trophy

A memorial shoot was organised and his ashes were placed into clay pigeon discs. A trophy was also created.

Cassie, 36, said: "We always knew dad wanted to be cremated so when he died we thought it would be a nice idea if we could carry out his last wish."

"We didn't know if it was possible but the club were more than willing to help."

"Dad's passion was shooting. He used to go to the club and he also taught clay pigeon shooting."

Mr Probert lived on the Pear Tree estate in Rugeley and began shooting when he was just 12 years old.

He would often visit Cannock Chase armed with an air rifle with friends and later switched to using a shotgun.

The grandfather-of-one was a member of the Staffordshire shooting team and in 1983 he opened Rugeley Guns and Tackle in Market Street.

Cassie said: "Opening the shop was his dream come true. He said he would never close the shop until he was gone."

and he kept that promise." More than 400 people packed out Stafford Crematorium to pay their respects to Mr Probert.

Mourners dressed in camouflage and a shotgun was placed on his coffin as the cortege drove past his former shop.

Some of his ashes have been scattered at the shooting ground and on land at Hedgesford Road in Rugeley where he used to offer clay pigeon shooting lessons. Cassie added: "Both the memorial shoot and the funeral were a celebration of my dad's life."

"Lots of his friends came along and my brother Bruce took a pot shot at one of the clays containing his ashes. It was a lovely way to say goodbye."

System is doomed to failure

MY wife and I have been with our present doctor for 11 years and getting an appointment has become increasingly difficult. So we decided to book online.

On May 21 she registered and signed in and was advised she could see her doctor on June 5 (13 days later).

After deciding not to pursue the matter, it begged the question how many people fill in applications online only to find their symptoms have cleared or they have gone to A&E or involved a paramedic, thus rendering their appointment void?

This will result in people either forgetting or not even bothering to cancel appointments. I fear it is doomed to failure unless someone can find an alternative solution, like charging those who do not cancel and for the doctors to stop the one day a week triage and concentrate on seeing their patients face-to-face. It is what they are paid for, after all.

Proud to have made a difference

LOOKING back at the European election result, the people have spoken and I respect the outcome, though I had hoped for a higher turnout.

I think people were using this election to make a general protest. Even though we were independent in Brussels, it was hard for the Liberal Democrats as the junior partners in the UK coalition and our vote was squeezed.

We are pro-European but also pro-reform and perhaps that did not come over strongly enough in our campaign. I've worked very hard and with some success over the last two years to reform and improve the way the EU deals with business and transport.

Promise to do the best for all in ward

I WOULD like to thank the people of Rawnsley Ward who came out in such dreadful weather and voted for me in the local elections on May 22, which I was elected as councillor. May I also thank everyone who helped in my campaign especially the two Daves.

I am honoured to have been elected and I promise to do my best not only for those who voted for me but for all the people in Rawnsley Ward, and if anyone has any problems or needs my help please contact me via www.cannock-chasedc.gov.uk

Looking back, I am proud to have made a difference as MEP for Staffordshire. After being alerted by Steelite and other local ceramics firms, I persuaded the EU Commission to impose anti-dumping duties to stop China wiping out our ceramics industry. I worked hard to highlight the interests of brick and cement manufacturers which are important employers here too.

I pushed rules for safer and greener lorry designs and proper anti-pollution checks in MoT tests through Parliament. I'm also pleased that by sheer obduracy I managed to make sure the final outcome on the directive on posting of workers abroad was acceptable to the UK when even UK Ministers thought it could not be done. I hope my work on the Fourth Railway Package will mean cheaper rail fares here and all over Europe in years to come.

I have worked really hard on the nitty gritty of legislation which UKIP and many other populist MEPs don't bother with.

I also found that I could achieve a lot to promote human rights, justice and development as an MEP on the South Asia delegation. The EU is a useful 'honest broker' which can do even more in this area.

Thanks for assistance

I WOULD like to thank the kind people who came to my aid when I had a fall outside B&Q in Cannock. It was Bank Holiday Monday when I decided to trip on the car park, but the assistance and reassurance I received helped me so much. Once again, many, many thanks.

IRENE EDWARDS, Cannock

Should new NHS leader be believed?

THE new leader of the NHS suggests that we should have cottage hospitals just when Cannock hospital is threatened with reduction of facilities.

As this was the man who introduced targets to Tony Blair, leading to the Stafford Hospital tragedies I am not sure whether he truly means what he says or whether we should believe him.

Before the creation of the NHS, Cannock had a maternity hospital at Ivy House, an accident hospital at Hednesford and a cottage hospital at Hammerwich. More demanding cases went to the County Hospital at Stafford.

Central control by the much vaunted NHS has removed all of these buildings and we now have people travelling to Stoke and Wolverhampton as well as Stafford. UKIP's policy for the NHS is to truly return control to local people as it once was, just as it should be.

Here for everyone

I WOULD like to take this opportunity to thank all the people of Heath Hayes & Wimblebury who voted for me and UKIP on May 22.

I can assure you that I will be working hard on your behalf for the next four years, as I have done since becoming a parish councillor in 2012.

If your vote went elsewhere it matters not to me nor UKIP as I am here for the community not just UKIP voters. So do not hesitate to call me on 07941712592 if you believe that I can help you with a problem.

I would also like to thank everyone on the team at UKIP Cannock who helped me to win this seat.

I look forward to helping all of you.

Good, clean contest

MAY I take this opportunity to thank all the people that voted for me in the Cannock North Ward on May 22.

It has been a privilege to represent the area over the years and I look forward to another four years of doing so. Finally I would like to thank my two opponents for a good clean contest and wish them well for the future.

Once again thank you to my supporters for their loyalty and confidence in difficult circumstances.

Pleasure to represent all

I WOULD like to thank everyone who voted for me in the local elections on May 22. It will be a pleasure to represent you all on any issues. I would also like to thank my agent John Kraujalis, and Parliamentary candidate Janos Toth.

Plea made after letter found by homeowner

EFFORTS to trace the family of a Cheslyn Hay man who died back in 1920 have hit a stumbling block.

Lynsey Evans, of Hatherton Road, Cannock, had appealed for information about namesake George Evans.

She enlisted the help a local history group, but the trail has now run cold. The plea came after Lynsey came across a letter of condolence in an old tin as she and her husband Chris renovated their new home.

It was sent by Mr Arnold Hawkins, of Grasmere, Cheslyn Hay, the owner of Hawkins Tileries, to a Mrs Evans on the loss of her husband George.

Lynsey, a 36-year-old senior HR manager, felt the letter must have been of some importance as the previous householder, a Mrs Kay Warburton, had kept it for nearly 100 years. She added 'it would be lovely' to return the letter to a family member.

Research

Neighbours believe that when Mrs Warburton, nee Hood, passed away, she had no close relatives in this country, though she possibly had a niece in France. Another recalls she had cousins, named Evans, in Cannock Wood.

Research by the Cheslyn Hay & District Local History Society discovered that Mrs Warburton was born on December 28, 1922 in Cannock, the daughter of George Edward Hood and Gertrude Marie Evans, who wed in 1884. The George Evans in question was her grandfather, born in Dawley in 1848 and one of seven children.

A father-of-six himself, he was manager at Rosemary Tileries in Cheslyn Hay for 13 years and went on to manage Hawkins Tileries for 20 years until retirement. He lived in Coppice Lane for most of his life but at the time of his death – on March 18, 1920 – was residing in Hawthorn Lodge, Bridge Street, Bridgtown.

Arnold Hawkins, who wrote the letter

However, the research has shown up no direct descendants. Lynsey said: "It was obviously important for the previous homeowner to have kept it for so long and it it would be shame to throw it away, so I'm happy to keep it and look after it unless there is a relative it can be passed onto."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Beauty meets industry as tapestry is unveiled

The Burntwood Embroidery Group with their tapestry depicting the war and Cannock Chase

A NEEDLEWORK group has unveiled a memorial tapestry in Burntwood.

Contrasting the industry of the coal mines with the beauty of Cannock Chase, the embroidery was unveiled in the entrance to Burntwood Memorial Hall in Rugeley Road.

A memorial plaque had previously been housed there, but it was removed when the new Memorial Stone was erected in the grounds.

The tapestry was designed by Barbara Marshall and created by the members of Embroidery for Burnt-wood Community, namely Nicola Buffin, Pauline Goodfellow, Catherine and Maureen Degregorio, Jan Gillett, Bette Hanson, Pauline Lerner, June McDearmid, Barbara Marshall, Jackie Perry, Ken Whinrey and Anne Wooliscroft.

The opening remarks were made by Councillor Susan Woodward and there was a dedication by Rev Marg Mattocks.

Service

The embroidery was received on behalf of the hall by Gwyneth Howells, a Trustee of the Institute. The unveiling was carried out by Jean and Colin Main whose son, a pilot, was shot down while on active service in Iraq. He was educated at Chasetown High School.

The project, which is in 3-D embroidery, took three years to complete and cost £3,000. Help with funding came from Burntwood Town Council, Aldi, the Co-Op, Lichfield District Council, Councillor Paul Atkins and Tom Ford of Unique Interiors.

Barbara thanked all those who made donations with a special thanks to Burntwood Family History Group for its background information.

Matt paintings go on show at library

Artist Matt Sayers with some of his paintings that are on display at Cannock Library in Manor Avenue

PAINTINGS by a keen Cannock artist are on show at the town's library. The artwork by Matt Sayers is on display in the gallery space at the Manor Avenue site throughout the whole of June.

The 32-year-old warehouse manager has been painting since an early age and is keen to make a career of it. This is the first time his work has gone on public show.

The exhibition, called Remember This, features paintings depicting images of days gone by. Among them is a street scene of Huntington featuring Littleton Colliery in the background.

A selection of the pieces will be on sale and the artwork can be viewed during normal opening hours. Call 01543 510365.

Mother is jailed for lies about car crash

A CANNOCK mother-of-two deliberately crashed her car before claiming her ex-partner had inflicted the injuries, a court heard.

Kathryn Cooper was jailed for six months after pleading guilty to perverting the course of justice. Stafford Crown Court heard Cooper, aged 34, intended to 'end it all' when she drove to Cannock Chase and took an overdose of paracetamol before smashing into bollards. She survived the collision and later told family and police that her facial injuries, caused on impact with the steering wheel, had been inflicted by her ex.

He was arrested in London where he was on business and spent a weekend in custody before he could be released on bail.

Banned

Hotel CCTV footage showed him in reception at the time of the crash last October. He had already been charged with an assault in April on Cooper.

As part of his bail conditions he was banned from the house but often visited a nearby pub and stayed in contact with his father who still lived with Cooper. Mr

Rob Perry, defending, said it had left Cooper, of Bevan Lee Road, 'pretty much a prisoner in her own home'.

The emotional impact of that period had prompted suicidal thoughts and led to her deliberately crashing the car. Cooper's GP later diagnosed that she had had a nervous breakdown.

Mr Benjamin Close, prosecuting, said the assault trial never went ahead as Cooper was considered an unreliable witness after it emerged she had lied about the crash.

Cooper, a cleaner, was described in a pre-sentence report as hard-working and extremely remorseful over what she had done.

Gateway sculptures to show off town's history

A SERIES of new sculptures are being planned for a major gateway into Rugeley. The group behind the idea hopes it will promote its local history.

These drawings show two of the sculptures planned for Horse Fair, where a £500,000 roadworks scheme is taking place.

Lea Hall and Brereton Collieries Memorial Society has drawn up the plans, which includes a mining mural and steel galloping horses.

The society is also behind the proposals for a £70,000 miners' tribute which will involve four 8ft-high sculptures being put on Globe Island to celebrate the town's mining heritage.

Support

Members of Lea Hall and Brereton Collieries Memorial Society say they want to support the improvements being made in the town and help promote its rich history with a new series of sculptures.

It is not yet known how much the project might cost, but it is hoped funding can be secured in the form of grants.

Secretary Alex Smith said: "We have got some ideas and have taken them to the town council.

"One idea is for a series of galloping horses made out of steel which reflects Rugeley's past and the horse fair.

"Another idea is keeping with the mining theme, as Rugeley was a mining town, is to paint a mural showing miners walking in to their shifts.

"Another idea was to erect a steel deer sculpture using scrap iron. We don't yet know how much it would cost but we would look to get funding from the lottery and heritage funds."

Sculptor Andy De Comyn, who created the Shot At Dawn statue at the National Memorial Arboretum at Al-

Miners on the way to their shift is one of the proposed designs

A deer sculpture would demonstrate the links with Cannock Chase rewas, has drawn up the designs. The 48-year-old said: "We've been looking at the different aspects of Rugeley's heritage.

"Someone mentioned there used to be antlers hanging from the railway bridge which is where the idea came for the stag and it links in with Cannock Chase.

"We also thought about having galloping horses. I'm really pleased with the designs. People have been very positive about them. We now need to put it to the town and see what they think."

The roadworks scheme being carried out involves reducing Horse Fair to a single lane carriageway and removing the traffic signals at St Paul's Road and the railway arches.

14 Superstore highlights caring role

The Chronicle Thursday, June 12, 2014

SUPERMARKET staff in Cannock are this week raising awareness of the role of carers.

The team at Sainsbury's are highlighting the role these people play in looking after an ill, frail or disabled family member or friend.

The national Carers Week awareness initiative takes place from June 9-13 and store colleagues and customers can find out more about the local support available.

The Dove Service will visit the Orbital Way store tomorrow (Friday) from 2-4pm.

Other groups holding awareness sessions include St Giles Hospice today (Thursday) and Age UK, both tomorrow and on Saturday. All groups, together with the Alzheimer's Society, will be providing literature for customers to take away on the day.

Store manager Paul Davis said: "We're proud to be working with Carers UK to help highlight the support that's available."

Ex-soldier grapples with offender in chemist raid

A FORMER soldier wrestled an armed robber to the ground in an attack on a pharmacy, forcing the offender to drop both a BB gun and much of the cash he had taken from the till.

The 49-year-old tackled the masked thief in a raid on Lloyds Pharmacy at Swan Island in Burntwood.

The thief escaped after punching the have-a-go hero in the face when the getaway driver arrived on the scene.

The ex-Staffordshire Regiment, soldier sustained a bloody nose. He had been waiting for a prescription to be made up at the counter at around 10.15am on Friday when the robber entered, pointing a weapon.

He said: "It looked very similar to a British Army 9mm automatic pistol, although it wasn't clear at that point whether it was real or not.

Rolling

"He grabbed money from the till and threatened us not to move as he went into the back looking for drugs.

"I decided I was going to tackle him and when he came out, I tried to get the gun. We fell to the floor and the gun dropped from his hand.

"We were rolling around, stuff on the displays was getting knocked over. He was kicking out a lot. My adrenaline was really pumping."

Lloyds Pharmacy at Swan Island, Burntwood

Annette Chapman, who owns a burger van opposite the shop, watched the drama unfold. The 40-year-old said: "I was serving a customer at the time and we heard shouting.

"I came out my van to have a look what was going on. There was a scuffle outside the pharmacy.

"There was a man wearing a cap who had been pushed to the ground by staff. He managed to get free and get into the car which then sped off towards Lichfield.

"I'm really shocked that this has happened. I heard one of the men had a gun. It really frightened me."

A worker from Lollipops childrenswear next door to Lloyds said the getaway car was parked right outside the shop. The pharmacy was cordoned off after the raid and forensic officers scoured the scene.

Police described the man who threatened staff as white, aged in mid-20s, 5ft 8ins tall with short mousey brown hair and he was wearing a grey hooded top.

It is believed he fled the scene in a black VW Passat and that two other men were in the car.

Officers searched the area with help from the police helicopter.

Staffordshire Police spokesman Sarah Davison said: "Officers were called to Lloyds Pharmacy in Lichfield Road just before 10.40am. The culprit threatened staff with the weapon, which he then discarded at the scene.

"Armed response officers and officers from the dog support unit attended the scene and began to search the area. The firearm was found discarded at the scene and is believed to be a BB gun."

Police are investigating a link between two similar raids during the same week.

On Tuesday, two masked robbers armed with a hammer threatened staff at Co-Op in Brownhills Road, Norton Canes before stealing money from the till.

The next day three masked men armed with a crowbar attacked a shopper and threatened security guards at the Co-Op in Springfield Road, Rugeley. Witnesses should call police on 101.

LG Arena gig will celebrate Stephen's life

SOME of the country's biggest pop stars and comedians are being lined up for a concert in memory of Stephen Sutton at Birmingham's LG Arena.

The Smile for Stephen show at the 15,000-seat venue is being organised by Free Radio and takes place on November 30. It will be held in aid of the Teenage Cancer Trust, for which the 19-year-old raised more than £4 million.

The first acts will be announced over the coming weeks.

Bosses say they hope to attract the likes of Olly Murs and The Saturdays, who have performed at the radio station's annual concerts.

Support

Stephen's mother Jane said: "This is a really exciting opportunity to not only celebrate Stephen's life, but to also keep the campaign going, and will help to raise lots more money for such a fantastic cause.

"We've been overwhelmed by the continued support from the public, it's clear that Stephen's Story touched so many people."

Tickets for the gig have gone on sale priced at £35 including booking fee, and are available from www.freeradio.co.uk or theticketfactory.com

A charity single, Hope Ain't a Bad Thing, by the Neon Brotherhood, reached number 16 in the UK Top 40 last weekend.

Heartbreak for family over prison sentence

Support offered after breast ops

Co-owners Sally Sandel and Natalie Pettitt

AN underwear shop is supporting women who have undergone a mastectomy by selling special bras.

PS I Love You in Rugeley is stocking bras designed for women who have undergone breast operations.

Owners Natalie Pettitt and Sally Sandel decided to sell the bras after spotting a niche in the market.

Both Mrs Pettitt and Mrs Sandel have gained qualifications in advanced bra fitting. They opened their shop in Upper Brook Street in November last year.

Mrs Pettitt said: "So many ladies were coming in asking about mastectomy bras. We saw that there was a niche in the market."

The shop has also started offering home fittings. They also hope to get local hospitals on board and hold clinics and bra fitting sessions from the moment of diagnosis.

A BRIDE-to-be's family have described as 'heartbreaking' the five-year jail term handed down to the truck driver that killed her.

Teaching assistant Laura Jane Thomas was 20-years-old when Ian Glover ploughed into her broken down car as he browsed explicit dating websites on mobile phones.

He had not seen the Vauxhall parked up with hazard lights flashing on the hard shoulder of the A5 between Telford and Shrewsbury.

The car flew over the barrier, killing Miss Thomas, of Great Haywood. Her fiancé Lewis Pagett, 19, of Rugeley, was seriously injured.

Glover, 44, was jailed for five years after admitting causing death by dangerous driving at Shrewsbury Crown Court but is likely to only serve half of that behind bars.

Laura and fiancé Lewis

Sickening

Mum Lisa, aged 45, dad David, 47, and sister Gemma, 19, have been left devastated by the tragedy.

"To sit and listen to the factual reasons why the accident was caused was sickening," said Mrs Thomas.

"To know that potentially Mr Glover could re-apply for his driving licence in five years' time and have the option to live a normal life having taken Laura's life heartbreaking," she said.

"To lose her life so young when she had everything and to watch the rest of our family suffer in the loss of Laura is unbearable."

Laura worked full time as a teaching assistant at Marshlands Special School and on Wednesday evenings volunteered at Riding for the Disabled Association at Ingestre. She studied for her A-levels at the Aelfgar Centre in Rugeley and worked part time at WHSmith in Stafford while studying.

She was described as having an 'incredible work ethic' and as being a 'beautiful person inside and out'.

The family have vowed to keep Laura's spirit alive and will be fundraising in her name supporting Riding for the Disabled Association, Marshlands School, and the Midlands Air Ambulance.

Friends and family will take part in a sponsored walk around Cannock Chase from Birches Valley on June 22. On Sunday (June 15), two of her best friends and an aunt are doing a sponsored skydive.

Cricket club is bowled over by Queen's Award

A CRICKET club is celebrating after being awarded a top voluntary award.

Hammerwich Cricket Club was one of a number of Staffordshire groups to be honoured with the Queen's Award for Voluntary Service.

In all, some 11 county organisations were recognised for their outstanding voluntary work within their communities. It follows the award of 13 such honours across the county last year.

Lord Lieutenant Mr Ian Dudson CBE, Her Majesty's representative for Staffordshire and Mr Ian Lawson, chairman of Staffordshire County Council, gave their congratulations to the winners.

Mr Dudson said: "I am delighted that another 11 groups in Staffordshire have received the Queen's Award for Voluntary Service this year."

Warmest

"This recognition is for each and every one of the hundreds of volunteers involved in these organisations and I send them my warmest congratulations."

"I also thank them, on behalf of everyone in the county, for their contribution to our society. We are all extremely grateful for all the voluntary work that is undertaken in Staffordshire."

Mr Lawson said: "This goes to prove that we are the best county in the country with the best voluntary organisations."

The honour has an equivalent status for voluntary groups as the MBE has for individuals.

To date 49 groups from Staffordshire have received the annual award since it was created to mark the Queen's Golden Jubilee in 2002.

In the coming months, all 11 groups

Chairman Dave Henn at Hammerwich Cricket Club

will receive their certificate signed by Her Majesty along with an exclusive commemorative crystal presented by the Lord Lieutenant of Staffordshire. Representatives from the groups have also received an invitation to attend one of the Royal Garden Parties at Buckingham Palace this year.

Hammerwich Cricket Club chairman Dave Henn said: "I am extremely honoured that Hammerwich Cricket Club has been granted the Queen's Award for Voluntary Service."

"It is a worthy recognition for all the volunteers, both past and present, which has made the club what it is today."

"We continually strive to improve the facilities, not only for our cricketers, but for the local community."

"It is the foresight, hard work and determination of club members and their friends, over the years, which has made Hammerwich a vital community asset and we will be proud to be able to use the Queen's Award logo."

Ann's smile
puts her in top gear

WILLENHALL'S Ann Skitt retrieves her bike from the garage, deftly fixes a slipped chain, and is ready "to go anywhere."

A young-at-heart 75-year-old, she oozes charisma and charm, still goes to the gym "when she needs to shed a few pounds" and is the life and soul of the party at her local Young At Heart Club where she is a volunteer worker.

It's hard to imagine that his retired assembly worker could ever be knocked back. But failing teeth "became an embarrassment," she recalls. Recently she was fitted with implant-retained dentures, inspired by a newspaper article on Steven Burchell's work at the Denture Clinic.

She says: "You don't realise how having bad teeth can affect you until you have treatment like this and you get the confidence back. The whole shape of my mouth has changed. I could not have wished for better treatment. My care was first class and Steven has become like family to us."

Suction solution is this the answer for you?

A CUTTING-EDGE development to help resolve the stability problems faced by thousands of denture wearers is being offered by the Denture Clinic.

Steven Burchell Dip CDT RCS(Eng) GDC108353, who heads the teams at his North Street practice in Dudley, and other clinics across the region, says the invention has the potential to resolve all-too-common denture stability issues.

Prosthetics are held in place by tiny valve-operated suction devices which are built into the prescription. A clever diaphragm principle, triggered by bite pressure on patients' gums, creates a 'sucking' vacuum between the soft-tissue mouth lining and the prosthesis.

Steven, whose clinics attracts patients from as far as Spain, the Isle of Skye and the Isle of Anglesey, adds: "The denture revolution is evolving at a frightening pace. In recent times we have seen, what I can describe only as strident steps forward, with implant-retained over-dentures, 'teeth-in-a-day' implant procedures and suction solution dentures, all coming into main-stream dentistry."

"We also have clever injection moulding technology which allows excellent fitting outcomes and our clinical solutions have never been so appealing."

"Implant dentistry as a resolve for stabilisation issues

The Ultra Suction system is available for both top and lower dentures, enables the construction of a plateless top denture and can be successfully used in relined work is not suitable for everyone, neither is it all patients' first preference, but the Ultra Suction prosthetics offer yet another possibility.

"The beauty of this affordable technology is that it can deliver for the right patient excellent denture retainer qualities without the invasive clinical procedures required for implant work. We have always endeavoured to be on the very cusp of clinical development and this is another 'tool' in our commitment to ever-try to deliver results which are greater than patient expectations."

"Lower dentures can often be troublesome as stability is compromised by shrinking gums and bone erosion - it's all part of the ageing process. Ill-fitting dentures create painful friction problems on gums and not least, be a source of compromised chewing and embarrassment."

Reduction

Steven adds: "The device can be mounted on upper or lower teeth and because of its efficiency allows us to consider a reduction in the size of the acrylic 'plate' which can result in improved speech and taste."

Typically, Denture Clinic patients will be assigned more than three-and-a-half clinical hours surgery time in achieving the best possible outcome.

Dentures have traditionally never been associated with cosmetic makeovers, "but our high-quality prosthetics have quite literally taken years off some of our patients," says Steven. "Can dentures look glamorous? Emphatically, yes - we have taken years off the appearance of some of our patients."

Ethan's an emerging musical talent

Singer/songwriter Ethan Jay from Heath Hayes who has just released a new EP

AN emerging self-taught musician hopes to pull the plug on his career as a plumber after producing his first EP. Singer/songwriter Ethan Jay is hoping instead to become part of the music industry.

The 23-year-old from Heath Hayes, has made the six-song EP having set up a studio in his bedroom.

Going by the name Ethan Jay he initially moved to London to get his producing career off the ground. But when it didn't work out he returned to the West Midlands which inspired the title of compilation Back Home.

His tracks mainly include the acoustic guitar and piano. Back Home is now available from iTunes and has already had a positive review from reviewyou.com

Ethan said: "The feedback has been really good."

Health centre plan axed

BUDGET pressures on the NHS have put paid to plans for a new multi-million pound health centre in Burntwood.

The news comes just weeks after a campaign to secure the building of the clinic was stepped up. Campaigners described the announcement as a 'terrible blow.'

Work on the complex, which would have been built on the site of Burnt-wood Leisure Centre and serve 22,000 patients, should have got under way last year after plans were agreed in 2011.

Adequate

But last week NHS England sent an email to Lichfield District Council to say the plans had been axed due to the current difficult financial situation.

Chase Terrace Councillor Sue Woodward said: "This is a terrible blow for Burntwood. The local area does not have adequate healthcare facilities and the plans would have provided exactly what the town needs.

"To be told now, and at this late stage, that they cannot fund this vital development is devastating."

District council leader Mike Wilcox said: "Whilst we of course understand the budgetary pressures faced by the NHS, this is incredibly disappointing news."

Army wives follow in fundraising footsteps

MILITARY wives have flipped and raised hundreds of pounds for comrades of their husbands.

Troops from the 3rd Battalion the Mercian Regiment (3Mercian) - formerly The Staffords - carried out a number of fundraising events during their recently completed tour of duty on the front line in Afghanistan.

During these they aimed to cover the equivalent of the 4,520 miles from Camp Bastion in Helmand Province to The King's Head pub in Lichfield where the militia that morphed in to 3Mercian was first raised.

One of these consisted of soldiers flipping a large vehicle tyre over a mile-long course. Now the wives have completed a similar challenge at the Battalion's German base at Bad Fallingbomel.

This involved teams competing against each other to gain the fastest time over 100m sprints. There was also a car boot sale, cake sale and a raffle. The ladies collected £800 in the process.

Troops

All the money raised by them and their husbands will be split between the Combat Stress charity and The Mercian Benevolent Fund.

Mrs Terrie-Ann Wright's Corporal husband Dan was among the 3Mercian troops who deployed to Afghanistan, his second tour in three years.

She said: "I wanted myself and other wives I know to be able to take part in fundraising for the two charities."

"I am really proud of how well everybody has done. It gave us something to work hard for and focus on during what was a very long, hard tour."

Sgt Darren Pritchard, the assistant unit welfare officer who is married to Rachael and has two children aged eight and five said: "I know personally how hard it is at times for soldiers to find things to talk about to loved ones back home while deployed.

Heave ho. Army wives flip the tyre during their fundraising challenge

"This offered a great opportunity for both parties to have a common focus away from the normal daily grind of either family duties or operational commitments."

"It has created a real sense of community spirit among the wives and cemented the meaning of a regimental family."

Regiment Quartermaster Sergeant Jason Rollins, a 35-year-old father-of-one from Rugeley, came up with the idea of the Journey Home challenge.

He said: "I am incredibly proud of all those involved and very humbled by the support we have been given."

Many of those who took part on the 3Mercian Journey Home are expected to complete the final mile to The King's Head on June 28.

20 Tough action on associates

TOUGHER measures to tackle people who assist criminals have been welcomed by Staffordshire's Police & Crime Commissioner.

A new offence of participating in an organised crime group is being created with those found guilty facing up to five years in jail. Powers to seize assets from criminals will also increase.

Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis said: "These new powers mean that people who oil the wheels of serious and organised crime will not get away with it. I want Staffordshire to be a no-go zone for criminals and their associates."

"I've decided that 100 per cent of funding received by Staffordshire Police from the proceeds of crime should go back to local communities."

"It's about hitting criminals where it hurts - in the pocket - and helping communities where it matters."

Services under threat as council looks to save cash

Report by Adam Burling

SERVICES will be hit as a council looks to save £2.6million over the next two years.

Lichfield District Council, which covers Burntwood, could slash leisure facilities, sport sessions and playschemes.

Ideas to generate income include charging £30 a year for emptying brown garden waste bins to bring in £790,000, charging for evening parking in Lichfield and introducing fees for disabled car parking.

Council leader Mike Wilcox said: "Due to further cuts in our funding from government we need to save at least another £2.4 million by 2016. To do this our councillors will face some difficult decisions about which services we should continue to provide, what we can cut or reduce, and whether we could charge for some services to raise more income."

Cutting back on the Lichfield Garrick's annual subsidy could save £150,000, as could transferring parks and sports facilities to other bodies.

Opening times will be reduced at the King Edward VI Leisure Centre in Lichfield, and a summer playscheme programme will be reduced from next year.

A statement by the council adds: "We will also review our charges for leisure activities and work to deliver further savings by reducing management support across leisure."

And the authority says 'the way we deliver administration, reception and coaching services' could be changed.

An online survey has been launched for residents to air their views on which services should be saved. In the questionnaire, the council asks what services people use and which ones are considered important.

It is available at www.lichfield.gov.uk/fit-for-the-future while the council has also included a freepost questionnaire in its residents' magazine, Intouch, which is being sent to homes across the district. The cuts programme has already saved £4.8 million.

Fire chiefs step up safety levels

THE number of accidental house fires across Staffordshire over the last year was the lowest in a decade, according to new figures.

There were 550 blazes in the county in the past 12 months. Overall, the number has dropped by 100 in the last four years. A decade ago the figure stood at 629.

However, Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service says the number of grass fires has rocketed from 364 in 2012/13 to 886 in 2013/14. And small fires, excluding grass blazes, has gone up from 1,210 in 2012/13 to 1,360 in 2013/14.

Fire bosses say they are stepping up fire safety campaigns and increasing people's awareness of dangers around the home.

Chief fire officer Peter Dartford said: "We remain absolutely committed to driving down the levels of fire casualties year on year."

Improvement works at park put out to tender

A MAJOR multi-million pound revamp at Hednesford Park has moved a step closer after council chiefs put the project out to tender.

Cannock Chase District Council is inviting businesses to submit applications for resurfacing works on footpaths, access roads and the car park as well as the adjoining war memorial.

The works are part of a raft of wider improvements that are being carried out at the site following the award of a £2.2million Heritage Lottery Fund grant in December 2012.

New tennis courts have already been installed and other areas will be revamped up to 2017, including a restored and extended pavilion, new and relocated play areas and outdoor gym, extensive planting, increased parking and more.

Pathways

New footpaths are being created and the railings around the war memorial at the park will also be repaired.

A council spokesman said: "Cannock Chase Council is inviting tender submissions for hardworks and surfacing work at Hednesford Park and war memorial. The works are to upgrade and construct new pathways, car park and access roads at the park and war memorial."

Work to extend the pavilion at the site to two-stories, featuring a community room, balcony and ground floor café, will start in the next few months. A new skate park is also being created. Around 30 extra spaces are being added at the car park.

by Laura Blyth

The improvement plans for the park went on display to the public for the first time in March.

The entire project will be finished within 18 months to two years.

In February, an historic signal box dating back to the 1800s was moved to the park which has become its new permanent home. It was moved over from part of the Chase Line near Hednesford Station.

It will be fully renovated before it is opened to the public later this year. The box will also be used as an office or base when there are events on at the park.

The building, originally planned for demolition by Network Rail, was constructed in the early 1870s. It has been used ever since on the Chase Line.

The deadline for businesses to apply for the contract is June 24.

Ash gears up for Iron Man challenge

PE Teacher Ash Perry prepares for his first triathlon in memory of his niece Ava-Mae Titley who died of leukaemia

A HEDNESFORD school PE teacher is set for a gruelling feat of endurance as he takes part in an Iron Man challenge.

Ash Perry, head of PE at Kingsmead Technology College, is pushing himself to the limit in memory of his cousin Ava-Mae Titley. The seven-year-old died last year and Ash is raising cash for Leukaemia Research UK.

Thousands of other entrants will vie with Ash for the Iron Man title in Bolton on July 20. The aim is to complete a 2.4 mile swim, a 112-mile bike ride and a marathon of 26 miles within 17 hours.

Swimming

Father-of-two Ash, aged 34, has been swimming before school to train for the event, running half marathon distances after his shift has finished and then getting on his bike at weekends to prepare.

He has entered mini-marathons before, but nothing on this scale.

"I've enjoyed it, but probably not to the extent that I would do it all again afterwards," he said. "My family, including my wife Kerry-Ann have been very supportive and I have had help with donations of a bike and wet suit."

Ash has set a fundraising target of £5,000 and is halfway to his goal. To donate, visit www.justgiving.com/ashley-perry

Time Team expert to open gallery

TIME Team celebrity Phil Harding will officially open The Museum of Cannock Chase's new mining gallery later this month.

The renowned archaeologist will join the crowds for an afternoon of entertainment at the Valley Road site on Saturday, June 28.

The free event runs from noon until 3pm and activities on offer include coal mining puppetry, storytelling, arts and crafts and quizzes, as well as music from the Rugeley Power Station Band. There will also be the chance to enjoy the new, interactive Mining Memories exhibition.

Stuart Murray, chief executive of WLCT which manages the museum on behalf of Cannock Chase Council, said: "We are incredibly proud of the work that has been done to create this impressive exhibition."

Councillor Christine Mitchell, culture & sport leader, said: "We're looking forward to welcoming Phil Harding and showing him what a great museum we have in Cannock Chase."

Burntwood Business Networking

Burntwood is not well re-nowned for being a thriving business district however there are a growing number of quality businesses hidden within this small corner of Staffordshire.

A new business networking group based at Burntwood Rugby Club now aims to bring the best of these businesses together for a weekly meet to share referrals and useful information. The group houses a number of members from accountants to gardeners, web designers and more.

Member Dave Hardy says 'With 10 members we are still a growing group, however the amount of business being passed around the room every week is phenomenal'

InBusiness Networking meets every Wednesday morning for breakfast from 7:00 – 8:30am. The reason they meet so early is that being successful business professionals it does not interfere with a regular working day.

Founder of inBusiness Networking David Whitehouse says 'Word of mouth will always be the strongest form of marketing , which is why the group establishes trust amongst it's members so clients can be sure they are getting a quality service from each of us'

Livingston ladies of dance mark 25 years

A DANCE and drama academy which has produced performers who have appeared on stages across the world is celebrating its 25th anniversary.

The Livingston Academy, which teaches dance, music and drama, was set up by dance teachers Debbie Morgan and Georgina Rowley in 1988.

Established in Darlaston, the academy moved to its current home on Holeyhead Road in Wednesbury in 1996, after increasing business led to a need for new premises.

Around 350 people, mainly youngsters but also some adults, are currently on the books at the academy, but the number of people who have been through the doors since it was set up cannot be estimated.

MEMORY LANE

Report by Adam Grinsell

Former students have performed around the world – with one former pupil currently appearing in Cats in London's West End.

Others have gone on to teach dance and drama or set up their own academies.

Debbie said: "We teach ballet, tap, modern, jazz, all the theatre subjects – singing, speech, drama and all-round performance. The majority of people who come here are local to the area, but we have students from quite far away as well – we've had girls from as far as Nottingham come to us, so some really do travel."

The 25th anniversary was actually last year, when the students began rehearsing for a new show Magical Memories.

The show was put on at the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock back in April, with a host of invited guests including former students.

Debbie added: "That's been the main celebratory thing really, we always do dance competitions, and we held a dance festival at Christmas, but the show in April rounded it off."

Achieved

"Our aim when we started out was always to have everything that children need under one roof, everything they need to do the theatre arts, and we have achieved that."

If anyone would like to inquire about the Academy, call Debbie on 07976 880608, or see www.livingston-academy.co.uk

What's in a name? asks guest

HAMMERWICH WI

THE March meeting was a very busy evening with lots of business to take place.

A new committee was elected and Barbara Renshaw was elected as president for the forthcoming year.

Thanks were given to the outgoing president and the committee for their work, so with business completed the president, committee and members enjoyed a bring & share supper - and of course the obligatory glass of wine.

In April, Anthony Poulton-Smith gave his talk on "What's in a name?" Not, as everyone thought, on surnames but the history and pronunciation of towns and villages.

Gartmore Riding Stables invited members to a coffee morning to learn more about "The Flying Horse" an equine memorial which will be sited at the National Arboretum at Alrewas.

Not only did members have the information regarding the memorial but were also treated to a dressage display, a tour of the stables, watched a film made by the children who are active in riding for the disabled, and for the bravest among them, a riding lesson.

May was a celebratory month as it marked the club's 94th birthday. This was marked in style with a meal at a local hotel and instead of the usual birthday cake, everyone had Happy Birthday cupcakes.

Meetings are in the first Wednesday of each month at 7.30 to the WI hall, Burnwood Road, Hammerwich.

Comedy entertainer at 21st annual lunch

Vice chairman Barbara Matthews, comedian Doug Parker and chairman Betty Howard-Evans

FOR the 21st annual celebration lunch 112 members and guests attended Cannock Chase Golf Club.

Chairman Betty Howard-Evans welcomed guests from Cannock and Hednesford Probus Clubs and after a superb meal Betty introduced Doug Parker who she first heard in 1996 at BBC Pebble Mill.

The show was Style Challenge, a BBC Daytime makeover show, presented by John Leslie, on weekday mornings on BBC1, from September 1996 to December 1998.

Mr Parker, from Wolverhampton, is one of the most entertaining comedians. He has entertained at a wide range of venues including theatres, ITV studios in Birmingham and Nottingham and the BBC Pebble Mill and in London where he was the warm-up man for many shows including Call My Bluff, Going for a Song, Parkinson and Central Weekend among others. Betty's year is to be one of friendship and good fun. Membership is open to retired ladies over the age of 50.

Meetings are held at the Chase Golf Club on the first Thursday of every month for lunch and a speaker. For more information telephone the membership secretary on 01543 505107.

in memory of Jean Rigby, a long-standing member of the guild and sadly missed.

A strawberry tea, a barbecue, a car boot sale and craft stalls were held and the proceeds amounted to the sum donated.

This in turn was only realised by all the hard work of the committee, members and helpers. The craft group also made a large contribution by holding craft stalls at fairs in the area.

The guild meets on the fourth Wednesday of every month.

Anyone wishing to attend will be very welcome. For further information call Vicky on 01543 686210.

Artists put on end of year show

With her work on display at the Faculty of Arts Degree Show, Wolverhampton, is Clarissa La Hiffe, of Burntwood

A BURN'TWOOD student is among the talented artists showing off their work at an end of year show.

The University of Wolverhampton's Faculty of Arts Degree Show features the artistic endeavours of 300 undergraduates, with a nine-day exhibition marking the culmination of three years' work. The event launched with a special invitation-only VIP evening. The walls and hallways of all seven floors of the University's MK Building in Molineux Street have been draped in artwork of every kind. Among those exhibiting is 22-year-old Fine Art student Clarissa Jane La Hiffe, who said she felt proud to display her work to so many people.

The exhibition is open from 9am to 6pm tomorrow (Friday) and from 9am to 4pm on Saturday. Entry is free.

Homes pledge for district

MORE than 5,000 homes need to be built across Cannock Chase district in the coming years, according to a new report.

Council bosses have drawn up a 'local plan' for the coming years and say there is a strong demand for housing up to 2028.

The report has been endorsed by Government planning chiefs and the proposals include 2,350 new houses on 'urban sites' in the district and more than 700 homes off Pye Green Road in Hednesford.

Inspector Stephen Pratt said: "Some argue that the housing target should be increased to avoid a reduction in economic activity, jobs and the labour force, but this could cause further immigration and upset the balance between homes and jobs."

The report was being discussed by a meeting of the full Cannock Chase Council yesterday (Wednesday).

"The report finds the housing market area of Cannock Chase, Lichfield and Tamworth to be appropriate and finds the approach to meeting housing needs soundly based and consistent with the national guidance."

The report has also backed the council's plans to create 41 new traveller pitches across the area, along with four plots for travelling showpeople.

Seconds and third chance to see Dawn

ACTRESS and comedienne Dawn French brings her show 30 Million Minutes — a rough estimation of her age — to the New Alexandra Theatre, Birmingham, for three consecutive nights from Wednesday to Friday (June 18-20).

The Vicar of Dibley star and former wife of Lenny Henry has based the show on her life and career and describes it as "somewhere between a monologue, a play and an autobiographical slide show with a few funnies thrown in."

Meanwhile, American comedy magic double act Penn and Teller have sold out their performances at the Alex on Sunday and Monday. Direct from Las Vegas, the duo promise jaw-dropping stunts.

Opera Usher in macabre horror

WELSH National Opera bring three productions to Birmingham Hippodrome for their mini-season from Wednesday to Saturday.

Sir John Tomlinson is in Schoenberg's Moses und Aron, sung in German with English surtitles on Wednesday at 8pm.

Verdi's Nabucco is staged on Thursday and Saturday (June 19 and 21) at 7.15pm, sung in Italian.

Edgar Allan Poe's macabre tales feature in The Fall of the House of Usher, a double bill of Gordon Getty's Usher House (sung in English) with Debussy's La Chute de la Maison Usher (in French), on June 20.

Caitlin to meet her readers

THE eldest of eight children, home-educated in a Wolverhampton council house, Times columnist and best-selling author Caitlin Moran is coming to Birmingham's New Alexandra Theatre next month as part of a UK tour that's heading towards being a sell-out success.

She will speak about men, women, feminism, music and TV, and much more, and reading from her books How To Be A Woman, Moranthology, and soon to be published first novel for adults How To Build A Girl.

After the show on Wednesday, July 16, she will be signing copies of her books.

Her experiences growing up in Wolverhampton inspired her to write TV sit-com Raised By Wolves, shown on Channel 4 last year.

Tickets cost £25.75.

BLUES rock guitarist Joanne Shaw Taylor will be back on home turf when she appears in her native West Midlands later this year.

Wednesbury-born Shaw Taylor, who now lives in Detroit, will be appearing at Birmingham Town Hall on November 15, hot on the heels of the release of her forthcoming studio album The Dirty Truth.

She made her live debut at the original Robin R'n'B Club in Brierley Hill in 2001 at the age of just 15.

Shaw Taylor will be supported by former Whitesnake guitarist Bernie Marsden for her homecoming concert. Tickets are priced £17.50. The Dirty Truth will be released in the UK on September 22.

The album sees her reunited with Jim Gaines who produced her critically acclaimed 2008 debut album White Sugar.

"I wanted to go back into the studio in Memphis with Jim to retain the same vibe that we captured on the first album," she said. "The new album is a combination of rock and blues, and I think it's going to be an exciting collaboration, and hopefully, my fans will love the rockier edge."

As for this week, as part of her 30th birthday tour, Radio 2 Folk Singer of 2014 Bella Hardy is visiting 30 of her favourite venues with her band The Midnight Watch. That brings her to the MAC in Edgbaston tonight. Tickets £12 (£10 concessions) and the show starts 8pm.

Following on from the recent success of When The Lights Go Out acoustic night, Baddies' Boogie will be taking over the studio at the Newhampton Arts Centre, Dunkley Street, Wolverhampton, for another showcase of local talent tomorrow night. On the bill this time is Wolverhampton singer/songwriter Daniel Kirk, Loose Lips, West Bromwich's Jak & Dave, Shropshire lad Olly Flavell, Willenhall's Chloe Rose Fisher and Zak Christie. Tickets are £5 and the show starts around 8pm.

More award-winners are coming to Wolverhampton when duo Gilmore & Roberts are guests of the Newhampton Folk Club in the upper room of the Newhampton Inn, Riches Street, on Saturday at 8.30pm. Tickets are £9.

Blues guitarist Joanne Shaw Taylor

You can hear the traditional harmonies of Caffery and McGurk at Black Diamond Folk Club tomorrow. The club meets on Fridays at 8.30pm at The Lamp Tavern, Barford Street, Highgate, Birmingham and the club is celebrating its 50th anniversary season.

Thrash mandolin player, TV presenter and comedian Ade Edmonson brings his Bad Shepherds to the Robin2, Bilston, on Sunday. Tickets are £19.50 or £22 on the night. Support from The Shellac Collective.

REVIEW

Joe's got X Factor, say fans

Joe McElderry, Prince of Wales Centre, Cannock

HE may have won the X Factor, Pop Star to Opera Star and even The Jump, but Joe McElderry has never won me over.

But he continues to have a legion of fans — and they turned out in droves to support him here.

McElderry promised some old songs, some new, some to just sit back and enjoy and others to dance along to. And on that score, he delivered.

Both Nessim Dorma and a classical version of Unbreak My Heart earned standing ovations before the first half had even finished. Smile had the fans swaying and he even took them back to his X Factor days with Open Arms.

The second half saw requests from the audience in 'Joe's Jukebox' ahead of a series of covers.

Credit to the girls who joined him on stage for the Ambitions dance before big hit The Climb ended proceedings and led to another rousing reception.

And, while the singer was having a good time on stage, his supporters were enjoying themselves being there. He's back next year, on June 4, with tickets on sale now.

Match of the Day Live (BBC1, 10.20pm)
England v Italy (Kick-off 11.00pm). Coverage as Roy Hodgson's men get their World Cup Group D campaign under way at the Arena Amazonia in Manaus, Brazil. The sides also met in the quarter-finals of Euro 2012, when the Italians were largely dominant throughout, but the match ended 0-0, with the Azzurri progressing on penalties. The teams faced each other again two months later in a friendly, when England prevailed 2-1, but both sides were far from full-strength. Since that contest, England have qualified for this tournament in a competent, if unspectacular manner, winning six and drawing four of their 10 fixtures to finish one point clear of Ukraine at the top of the table. Meanwhile, Italy also earned six victories and four draws from their qualifiers.

Uruguay have been among the top 10 nations in the FIFA rankings for some time now, and while they begin as favourites to succeed here, they will need to perform better than they did in the qualifying campaign. Having finished fifth in the CONMEBOL group just behind Ecuador, they have qualified for the tournament via a two-legged inter-confederation play-off against Jordan, and avoided what would have been an embarrassing upset. Costa Rica are one of four nations to have qualified from the CONCACAF region, joining the USA, Honduras and Mexico, and this will be their fourth appearance at a World Cup finals. Charlie Hamilton James

I Bought a Rainforest (BBC2, 8pm)

Nine months in and Charlie Hamilton James's project has hit rock bottom, so he decides to spend time with one of his neighbours – a Wacheperi shaman who treats sick people with hallucinogenic medicines. He then heads across the border to Brazil to meet a cattle rancher planning to burn down a huge chunk of virgin forest to increase the size of his farm, giving Charlie a clue as to how to make his scheme work. Back on his land, Charlie makes squatter Elias an offer and the pair embark on a new joint venture.

Coverage of the opening World Cup Group E match for both sides, which takes place at the Estadio Beira-Rio in Porto Alegre, Brazil. With Switzerland and Ecuador the other sides involved, France will expect their star-studded squad to finish top and reach the last 16, where they may also be handed a favourable draw against a team from Group F. ## Pick of the Week

The Goodmans make a return to our screens

It's been 18 months since we last caught up with with TV's favourite Jewish family, the Goodmans – and that's an age in TV terms.

We thought that was it, they'd left our lives forever. But thankfully that's not the case, because here they are, back for a new run of the sitcom.

"I'm so excited to be making a new series of Friday Night Dinner with such a fantastic cast once again," says writer and producer Robert Popper. "I really could not be happier. Well I could, if say, I'd taught crows how to speak and they, in turn, taught me how to fly."

Nerys Evans, Deputy Head of Comedy, Channel 4, adds: "We're thrilled we're going to be spending more Friday Nights with the Goodmans, and not forgetting Jim and Wilson too. Robert's created such a brilliantly warm and funny world, and the cast are just sublime, we can't wait to join them for more Friday Night Dinners."

Although it's truly an ensemble piece, it's Tamsin Greig who effortlessly manages to grab the spotlight – but then again, she is arguably the leading female light in British sitcom at the moment thanks to this show and the BBC Two hit Episodes.

"I think it's lovely," she says of this project. "The editing is beautiful, it's as if it's written on the page, very very fast, tightly shot, very funny and a credit to the people who put it together."

Here she plays Jackie, the matriarch who's very much at the head of the family, a fact that Greig discovered was true to life when she spent an evening with some Jewish friends.

"I went to a mate's house for Friday night dinner and there was a lot of food and the women were really loud," she says, widening her eyes. "And so I just used that. I thought the women might be more retiring, but the women really do run the shindig and I thought that was brilliant."

"But Robert hasn't had to think up any of this. He should really say it was written by his dad!"

However, she does have one problem during filming – sharing the screen with her old Green Wing sparring partner Mark Heap.

A known 'corpser', Greig says it was "almost impossible" to film with Heap as Jim the neighbour. "I think there are some scenes where you can't cut to me at all because I'm just laughing out loud every time he moves," she recalls.

At the start of the new run, Jackie is thrilled – Adam seems to be having more luck with the ladies. In fact, at long last, he's bringing a lady (or 'female' as his dad would say) home to meet his parents and brother Jonny. However, as you may already have guessed, the evening doesn't go quite to plan.

That's because the Goodmans are currently taking care of eight-year-old Katie who has a crush on Adam. So when she spots some incriminating photos on his phone, she spies the perfect opportunity to blackmail him into doing everything wants.

And barking like a dog while wearing make-up doesn't go down well with Emma...

Best of the Rest

MONDAY
Tigers About the House
BBC2, 8pm
 New series. Documentary following zookeeper Giles Clark as he hand-rears Sumatran tiger cubs Spot and Stripe, which were born at the Australia Zoo in Queensland and are one of the most critically endangered species on earth. To help give them the best start and ensure their survival, Giles takes them home to live with his boisterous family and gives them round-the-clock care for the first four months of their lives. The film gives an intimate look into the crucial early development of the cubs as they struggle through their first crucial weeks, while Giles embarks upon the toughest parenting job of his life and tries to save the species from the brink of extinction in the wild. Andrew Lincoln narrates.

Benefits Britain: Life on the Dole
Channel 5, 9pm
 It's been a hot topic for a while, and there's almost been as much coverage on this subject recently as there has been on the World Cup. Well okay, maybe not quite that much. Figures suggest that there are more people living off benefits now than at any time since the foundation of the welfare state. Some put this down to factors such as immigration, lack of jobs, and, controversially, laziness. But can we really be so judgemental until we understand the circumstances of those who rely on the state? This series aims to give us an insight into the lives of claimants, including Jordan McDonald from Great Yarmouth, who had his benefit payments cut when the job centre discovered he had not attended a work programme.

TUESDAY
Horizon: Where Is Flight MH370?
BBC2, 9pm
 The inside story of the search for Malaysia Airlines Flight MH 370, which vanished on March 8 while en route from Kuala Lumpur to Beijing. The film reveals how the Boeing 777 disappeared in a radar blind spot and what investigators believe happened to the aircraft in its last minutes, and hears from the British satellite engineers who tracked the plane's final hours. It also examines new technologies including black-box streaming and enhanced air-traffic surveillance that mean an airliner should never be lost without trace again.

WEDNESDAY
My Violent Child
Channel 5, 9pm
 Domestic violence is still a big concern in the UK, and while it's true we'll never really know what goes on behind closed doors, some families are suffering an altogether different form of abuse; one that's so devastating that many refuse to even acknowledge its existence – child-on-parent violence. This one-off programme tells the shocking story of this kind of abuse, and reveals how helplines receive over 11,000 calls a year from adults being physically abused in their home. The documentary takes a look at the hidden world of such violence and follows three families' journeys as they struggle to get their head around their children's behavioural issues – and cannot help but question what they could be doing differently in their parenting.

Episodes
BBC2, 10pm
 Back when television phenomenon Friends ended after its 10-year run, its stars could have been forgiven for laying awake at night with worry about what they'd do next. For Matt LeBlanc, however, that worry would have been wasted energy. Okay, so when she spots some incriminating photos on his phone, she spies the perfect opportunity to blackmail him into doing everything wants. And barking like a dog while wearing make-up doesn't go down well with Emma...

very best comedy talent. In tonight's episode there's bad news as Pucks! is finally pulled from the schedule, and everyone reacts in different ways – with Sean is in denial, Beverly is mentally packing her bags and Matt finds solace in the arms of a 19-year-old superfan.

THURSDAY
FIFA World Cup Live 2014
ITV, 7pm
 Uruguay v England (Kick-off 8.00pm). All the action from the eagerly awaited Group D fixture at the Arena de Sao Paulo, as both sides play their second match of the tournament. While this may not officially be the Group of Death, the draw in December did little to breathe life into England's campaign, as Roy Hodgson's men were handed this clash with the South Americans to follow their opener against Italy. While Uruguay struggled in qualifying and needed a play-off against Jordan to make it through, they will still be regarded as one of the favourites due to their outstanding strikeforce, which includes Edinson Cavani, Diego Forlan and Luis Suarez. The injury-hit latter of those three will no doubt attract the greatest attention ahead of this fixture, having proven a controversial character in his time at Liverpool, for whom he was in outstanding form last season. In fact, the striker was at the centre of one of the most memorable moments of the last World Cup, when his last-minute deliberate handball on the goal line against Ghana resulted in his dismissal, although the subsequent penalty miss by Asamoah Gyan saw the match go to a shootout, which Uruguay won to become the only South American representative in the semi-finals.

FRIDAY
Seven Wonders of Brazil
BBC2, 9pm
 Brazilian Catholicism is a mixture of influences that has developed since the country was colonised by the Portuguese almost 500 years ago, combining song and dance, African and native beliefs and the faith of the southern Europeans who invaded. In this film, theologian Robert Beckford explores the incredible spiritual diversity of the South American country by examining seven things that embody the melting pot of Brazilian Christianity, from statue of Jesus Christ to the samba beat of the carnival.

Awesome warp speed car but at what a cost

By David Banner

The race for power, pace and prestige has been well and truly joined by the German triumvirate of Audi, BMW and Mercedes, all of whom have produced fire-breathing beasts which wouldn't look out of place on a Formula 1 track.

A product of the finest technology the Audi RS7 is simply awesome, the 560ps four litre twin turbo V8 delivering warp speed and power as the firm seeks to attract the big spenders in search of thrills on four wheels.

It is a huge, stunning-looking car, sleek, curved and angled in all the right places and shod with 20 inch alloys – although the stylish 21 inch five-spoke bladed black wheels on this model are the matter of another £2,000.

But it does look good as do all RS models, with its low stance, its predatory-looking lights with LED surrounds and all the red RS badging and trim exuding a look of power – and it doesn't fail to deliver.

Harnessed to Audi's quattro four-wheel drive system and a seamless eight speed automatic gearbox, the car powers from 0-60mph in 3.9 seconds – and just for the record, if you can get it on a race track or the German autobahn, it has a top speed of nearly 190mph. The eight-speed automatic gearbox is barely registers the gear changes, but if you like you can have fun with paddles behind the steering wheels.

The acceleration is enough to have you and your passengers reaching for the neck brace, and there is a satisfying V8 roar from the twin exhausts under acceleration.

Sophisticated

It also has amazing grip thanks to the all-wheel drive system but even then all the sophisticated electronics are battling to keep it in straight line.

If it looks like a flying machine without wings from the outside the interior is pure space age, featuring just about every gadget, well most, you could want from a car costing more than £80,000.

Well, that's not strictly true and in this case the car was loaded with extras worth an eye-watering £30,000, including a Bang & Olufsen sound system at more than six grand.

High tech features can include goodies such as cockpit-style head-up display which projects info onto the windscreen, multi-settings for engine management and suspension set up via the intelligent central brain controlled from the console between the two front seats. This also controls music, navigation and telephone connections.

Fixtures and fitting are pure luxury with a sporty look and soft touch finishes abound.

The four interior seats are also sporty but comfortable. Made from honeycombed quilted leather with grey stitching, they grip the occupants firmly but comfortably.

Flying machine it may be but it is also fairly practical, comfortably accommodating four adults and features a large, shallow but long boot which is accessed via the large hatchback tailgate.

The rear seats fold increasing the 535 litres stowage space to more than decent 1,390 litres.

Fuel consumption is probably not an issue when forking out this much cash, but average consumption according to the car's computer ended up at nearly 25mpg, not bad against a claimed 28.8mpg and I did not have to fill it up after every couple of lampposts. It seems odd to have stop/start technology on such a car, but perhaps it did shift up that economy figure.

The 560ps is not much good if the car won't stay on the road and as you would expect of a car of this pedigree, the handling is faultless, with the all-wheel drive traction and stability programmes making it cling to the road limpet like on fast corners.

The ride however, can be like a go-kart especially when the dynamic option is selected on those engine management settings. Even when switched to comfort mode the ride is borderline harsh. But if you buy a sporty car like this, that probably is not an issue.

Sports car performance with a bit on top, plus cutting edge technology and car park kudos, it's great, but what a price.

Neat styling in GLA

By David Banner

It's not like Mercedes-Benz to miss out on an opportunity. There are few companies more committed to filling niches and sub-niches than the Stuttgarters, but if you had to nominate two that were even more opportunistic, you'd probably finger Audi and BMW.

Both companies have lined their pockets in this country with their smaller SUVs, Audi with the Q3 and Q5 and BMW with its X1 and X3 models.

Meanwhile, Mercedes has been left uncharacteristically bereft, with nothing comparable in its product range. Until now, that is.

The GLA Class is Mercedes' answer and it hasn't taken AMG long to get its hands on it and produce the vehicle we have here; the GLA 45 AMG. We've had A and CLA-class models with that suffix before and it spells all-wheel drive traction and a surfeit of power that's almost obscene.

Can it work in a higher-riding 'crossover' body? Audi's RS Q3 has demonstrated that a market exists. Can Mercedes trump Audi at its own game?

Fireworks

There's only one engine on offer but it is quite a powerplant. A 2.0-litre four-cylinder unit might not immediately promise great fireworks, but this one comprehensively trumps the 310PS 2.5-litre lump in the Audi RS Q3, developing a hefty 360PS from a relatively lightweight hand-built twin-scroll turbo engine.

Mercedes claims it to be the most powerful series-production four-cylinder turbo engine in the world and although you might well remember the odd Mitsubishi Evo with a few more ponies under the bonnet, for the time being at least it's impossible to argue with Mercedes' claim. This engine develops 450Nm of torque from just 2,250rpm, again incrementally better than the Audi's 418Nm.

Think zero to 62mph in just 4.8 seconds on the way to an electronically limited 155mph top speed. That's one fast crossover.

The styling of the GLA 45 AMG offers a neat third way if you find the A45 AMG too gawky and the CLA 45 AMG too weird. Of the three, it's probably got the most cohesive front to rear design and it's not too overdone.

The cabin gets some sporty touches, such as bolstered seats in Artico/Dinamica microfibre with red contrasting stitching and red seat belts.

Expect to pay around £45,000 for the GLA 45 AMG, once you've allowed for some extras.

Mii Mango is big in the style stakes

By Sharon Walters

The order books have opened for Mii by Mango, Seat's most highly specified compact car yet.

Built on the belief that thinking small shouldn't mean sacrificing on style, the special edition's arrival is the result of a collaboration between Seat and influential Spanish fashion company Mango.

Available in both three and five-door bodystyles, priced at £10,995 and £11,345 respectively, this newcomer is a flagship addition to the Barcelona-based brand's successful Mii family.

Sharing the model's already appreciated attributes of quality and impressive packaging, coupled with running costs which are among the lowest in the segment, Mii by Mango builds on this with additional beauty in the detail.

Boasting a lengthy list of additional standard features, over the Sport on which it is based, fashion meets functionality in a car that's all about youthful yet tasteful design.

The first visual cue to this catwalk-inspired edition is the Mii by Mango badging and choice of colour schemes. Uniquely, there's the option of either custom-palette Nude with dark grey alloys or a Deep Black metallic hue and silver wheels. Privacy glass plus contrasting side trim detailing and door mirrors complete the look.

Unique

Emphasising its status as a halo model, Mii by Mango also benefits from an interior makeover. The unique leather and perforated Alcantara upholstery add an aura of real luxury with the contrast piping and stitching, as well as branded door sills, floor mats and key fobs, creating a bespoke feel to the cabin environment.

Mii by Mango wants for nothing in the way of equipment either, with remote central locking, electric windows, air conditioning, Isofix anchoring points and a suite of airbags for the safety conscious. The Seat Portable System Live adds to the driving experience, with satellite navigation, Bluetooth hands-free connectivity and audio streaming.

Additionally, a Mii by Mango Style Pack is available as an option. This includes a panoramic glass sunroof and front fog lights for £690.

The Mango edition's launch also coincides with ESC, tyre pressure monitoring and Hill Hold Control becoming standard on all Mii trim levels.

Despite making a fashion statement, Mii by Mango won't disappoint on the move. Powered exclusively by the higher output 75PS version of the VW Group's three-cylinder 1.0-litre engine with five-speed manual gearbox means there's adequate performance matched with impressive eco credentials. The vital statistics are: 0-62mph in 13.2 seconds; 108g/km CO2; 60.1mpg combined.

First deliveries are expected in August.

Mazda3 is setting the benchmark in its sector

By David Banner

There's a lot to tempt buyers to take a look at the new Mazda3. It has strong residual values, lowest average depreciation and 2014/15 company car benefit-in-kind tax bills lower than a host of rivals.

Data from vehicle valuation experts CAP Automotive reveals the new SKYACTIV Mazda3 range tops the table and beats lower-medium sector rivals in terms of average forecasted pound-note depreciation. And company car drivers wanting to cut their benefit-in-kind tax bills can make significant savings against more expensive rivals.

The all-new Mazda3 is the third car in the marque's line-up to benefit from SKYACTIV technology and the 36-strong model line-up offers precision handling, exceptionally generous interior cabin space and sporty design.

Starting with the looks, if cars did benefit from working out, it would be the new Mazda3. It's lost weight, and become shapelier, more agile and has rivals looking on with envy. While it bears the same name as the outgoing hatchback, the Mazda3 is new from the ground up. Larger than its predecessor but engineered for fuel economy, it has features which have also paid dividends in terms of safety, roadholding and the fun-to-drive factor.

The car is a fraction lower, visually fitting in with its curving lines and sculpted surfaces while also helping to reduce drag.

In the four-door Fastback, the long boot has a useful 419 litres of space, slightly more than its hatchback stablemate which also has the practicality of split/fold rear seats.

The fascia is made of what looks like durable textured plastics, with an instrument binnacle comprising two information displays either side of a large rev counter. Inset is a big, clear digital speed readout.

The latest Mazda3 gets four engine options, all of which are designed around Mazda's SkyActiv technology. SkyActiv aims to improve efficiency by reducing weight and utilising smart functions such as capturing waste energy to power things like the air-conditioning when the car is stationary.

Closes

It even extends to functions like an active shutter front grille which closes for better aerodynamics when the engine isn't in immediate need of cooling.

Engines comprise an entry-level 1.5-litre petrol and two 2.0-litre petrol units, as well as a 2.2-litre diesel. The 1.5-litre engine produces 99bhp and will go from rest to 62mph in 10.8 seconds, while the 2.2-litre diesel will cover the benchmark sprint in 8.1 seconds, thanks to its punchy 148bhp engine. Mazda reckons a less powerful diesel engine will eventually be offered to UK customers, but it may take quite a while.

The 2.0-litre petrol engine is offered in two options – one with 118bhp and the other with 165bhp. As for performance, 0 to 62mph in 8.9 seconds for the standard version and 8.2 seconds for the higher power version. Buyers of the 118bhp 2.0-litre petrol and the 2.2-litre diesel are also offered the option of a six-speed automatic.

The car is offered with the sort of hi-tech features that not so very long ago were the preserve of luxury saloons. There are refinements like a head-up display, touch-screen satellite-navigation and mobile internet connectivity. The mobile system is particularly interesting, following the likes of Toyota into the market with a system which allows the car to pair with a smartphone and display Facebook and Twitter updates. A nine-speaker Bose audio system is also available.

Buyers choose between SE, SE-L and Sport trim levels, with or without sat nav. Even the base SE comes with 16in alloy wheels, air conditioning, power-folding heated mirrors, a leather steering wheel, a trip computer, a radio/CD with six speaker audio system, 7in TFT colour touch screen, USB/iPod connectivity and a Bluetooth hands-free system. All models also come with Smart City Brake Support (SCBS) which helps to reduce or prevent low-speed collisions by automatically applying the brakes if the driver fails to act, plus there's Hill Hold Assist (HHA) to prevent roll-back.

On-the-road prices start at £16,695 for the all-new Mazda3 1.5-litre SKYACTIV-G 100ps SE Hatchback.

Chance to net free tennis sessions

HEDNESFORD Park will be offering free tennis every Sunday from next weekend.

The scheme is offering mini-tennis for five- to 10-year olds from 10 to 11am, junior tennis for 11-to-16s until noon, followed by adults coaching and mix-in sessions until 1pm. Sessions start next Sunday, June 22 and will run until July 27 as part of British Tennis Week-end.

Rackets and balls will be provided so anyone can get involved.

The four new adult and four junior courts are part of a £3.1m Heritage Lottery Fund project and were officially opened last September.

This is the first phase of the project part funded by Staffordshire Environmental Fund and the Heritage Lottery Fund by Cannock Chase District Council.

Booking is recommended. For more information go to tiny.cc/hednesfordtennis, email cheslynhaytennis@live.com or phone Chris Perrin on 07969 829318.

Chris Perrin, who will be leading tennis activity at Hednesford Park alongside other coaches and leaders, said: "We are really excited to be running free tennis sessions."

Win shirt delivered by legend

VILLA are offering fans the chance to have the new 2014-15 away shirt hand delivered by a member of the 1982 European Cup winning squad.

The shirt, which features a white body with a pin-stripe design to pay homage to the famous jersey worn by the legends in Rotterdam, is available to pre-order from until Tuesday, July 8.

Fans who pre-order the shirt will be entered into a draw to have their shirt delivered by one of the stars. A hundred lucky winners will then be selected and will receive their new away shirt on Sunday, July 13.

The promotion is only open to supporters living within a 20-mile radius of Villa Park. Terms and conditions apply.

Sue's trophy win is third in six years

Winner Sue Pugh, sponsor Lynn Pritchatt and runner-up Debbie Farmer

WOMAN bowler Sue Pugh, of Warley, is better off by £240 after winning the George Pritchatt Memorial Ladies competition at Chads Moor Progressive.

Pugh lifted the trophy for the third time in six years with a 21-17 final against 2011 champion Debbie Farmer of Swinton.

She recovered from a 15-9 semi-final deficit to edge out Sarah Fox of Yorkshire 21-19. In the other semi-final Debbie defeated Amanda Ridley of Stretford 21-14.

Sue received the £240 first prize and the Lynn Pritchatt Trophy. The event was sponsored by Mel Evans, Lynn Pritchatt

Wood are already back in training

AFTER last season's very creditable sixth place Walsall Wood are already back in training for the forthcoming season.

At the recent presentation evening Harry Harris was crowned leading goalscorer and also won the Midland Alliance goal of the season for his volley against Tipton Town.

Skipper Lee Stretton was voted Supporters' Player of the Year and won the award for the most Man of the Match nominations. Anthony Juxon picked up both the Players' Player and the Manager's Player awards.

Wood have a full friendly fixture list starting with an away game at Willenhall Town on Saturday July 5.

They visit Walsall Phoenix on July 8, then Coventry Copsewood on July 12. The first home game is on July 15 when Hednesford Town are at Oak Park, followed on Saturday 19 by Richard Sneekes and his Rushall Olympic.

July 22 sees the visit of last season's champions Tividale before Wood travel to Sporting Khalsa on Saturday 26. Romulus bring the curtain down when they visit Oak Park on Monday 28 before the opening game of the season on August 2.

Smith's overjoyed at Pitmen double swoop

HEDNESFORD Town manager Rob Smith has said he is delighted at the capture of two exciting signings from Skrliff North rivals Brackley Town.

The Pitmen boss admitted that with the budget of some teams in the division this year, he had to show a degree of patience to secure new signings.

Smith, so devastated at the last gasp play-off defeat to Altrincham back in May, has moved quickly to re-sign a number of players from last year but believes the capture of Steve Diggin and Glenn Walker can refresh his squad ahead of pre-season.

"I have spent a lot of time trying to get these two to the club and I'm delighted they have chosen us. They believe we are the right club for them and it's not about the money.

"Their attitudes are refreshing and they will blend in with the current crop easily," he added.

Strategy

"Glenn is an outstanding talent, and Steve is a proven goalscorer, I'm genuinely over the moon getting these lads.

"I have a set strategy for transfers but the hard part is persuading players to come.

"Financially some of the money being thrown around by clubs this year is beyond belief, we are not in that league so have to be patient."

Despite the struggles against so called 'bigger' teams and certainly bigger budgets, Smith admits he is content with the squad signed up so far.

Football

"I'm fairly happy, there's still a few players to sort out which I will endeavour to do next week but it's nice to be able to have a solid basis of a squad to take into next season, which undoubtedly will be tougher than last year."

One player who definitely won't be returning for another campaign is midfield enforcer and fans' favourite Dave Macpherson.

Macpherson announced his retirement after the Altrincham defeat and Smith was keen to single him out for praise as a very well respected player.

"Macca is an outstanding lad who has had two great years at the club. Some of his goals have been really important and he never gave anything less than 100 per cent."

"A few people raised eyebrows when I brought him in to replace Jay Denny but he has proven me right."

There will be further club updates on the official website and Twitter ahead of the start of pre-season training in early July as the annual curtain raiser to the campaign, an away trip to AFC Wulfrunians is only a matter of five weeks away.

Crowning glory as Staffs claim national title

Staffordshire Men's Hockey team celebrate becoming national champions for the first time in 20 years

STAFFORDSHIRE Men's Senior hockey squad have been crowned national champions for the first time in 20 years.

The players, who are selected from clubs across the county, defeated Sussex 4-2 with Will Hearne and Cannock's Nick Bandurak grabbing two goals apiece in a fiercely contested National Inter-counties finals at Old Loughtonians HC.

The victory is a culmination of five years of training and competition that saw Staffordshire win promotion back to the top division three years ago.

Since then, they have had to console themselves with silver medals in the last two finals, but this year, having won their qualifying tournament at Lincoln in May, the squad went one better to claim the gold.

A spokesman said: "Being drawn from eight clubs, which means they do not play together on a regular basis, this makes their achievement more important.

"There is an excellent team spirit within the squad, which combined with a frightening degree of skill and speed has produced an outstanding quality of hockey this year." Captain Stuart Gooderham (Burton HC) has been at the helm for the past five years and was finally able to lead his players in celebration.

Sponsor deal with theme park

DRAYTON Manor Theme Park is set for the international sports stage following a major sponsorship deal.

In a three-year deal, it has become the official theme park of Warwickshire County Cricket Club. The partnership includes renaming the Priory Stand at the 25,000-seat Edgbaston Stadium as the Drayton Manor Family Stand.

In addition, the park's logo will feature on the stadium scoreboard, website, and on scorecards for matches at Edgbaston, as well as on tickets for the renamed stand.

This summer Edgbaston hosts international fixtures against India and Sri Lanka as well as Finals Day of the NatWest T20 Blast.

Interactive players in world bid

TWO Midlands players are chasing glory at the FIFA Interactive World Cup (FIWC) Grand Final in Rio de Janeiro

Ty Walton, from Redditch, and David Bytheway, from Wolverhampton, have qualified to represent England at the FIFA Interactive World Cup (FIWC) Grand Final.

This year is the first year the Grand Final is to be held in the same country and same time as the World Cup. David, aged 20, is ranked 23rd in the world and 21-year-old Ty, ranked 19th, will take on players from the likes of Brazil, Romania and Ireland as they vie for the FIWC crown.

Mantom rumoured as possible captain

SAM MANTOM has admitted to being flattered by talk of the Walsall captaincy but insists it will not prove a distraction.

The 22-year-old midfielder, whose performances last term saw him crowned the Saddlers player of the season, is one of several players in the frame to replace Andy Butler following the former skipper's switch to Sheffield United.

Mantom is not fazed by the possibility of being handed the armband but says his main focus remains on improving as a player.

"It's nice that my name is being thrown around and I'm delighted about that but all I want to do is just play well for Walsall," he said.

Football

"I'm coming up to 100 league games and that's a good feat for someone my age.

"If I get given it (the armband) or not, I don't think it will affect me either way.

"I will have to have a chat with the gaffer and see what his thoughts are.

"Obviously we have got players here who have got great leadership qualities. It's nice to have your name thrown around but there's nothing concrete at the minute."

Mantom was a virtual ever-present for the Saddlers last term, making 48 appearances.

And he admits there is a duty for the likes of him and Paul Downing – another of the team's young stars who could be considered for the captaincy – to show leadership on the field with Butler departed.

He added: "Obviously you have got to try to be a leader if you are playing week in, week out and people look up to you and respect you.

"It (the captaincy) is a big thing for us but nothing has been said yet so we will have to take that when it comes."

Butler signed a two-year deal with Sheffield United last week and will officially join the Blades on July 1. Mantom is full of praise for the legacy left by the former skipper.

"He's an awesome guy and an awesome player," he said. "As soon as I found out he was leaving I texted him and wished him all the best for the future.

"He just explained he couldn't do the travelling any more."

No luck of Irish as Jones is beaten

A CANNOCK kickboxer missed out on the luck of the Irish when he was narrowly beaten in a European title fight.

Luke Jones of Burntwood, is a British, European and Commonwealth champion and fought local boy Gary McDonnell at the Radison Hotel, Athlone. Fighting seven two-minute rounds, 20-year-old Jones was up against both the four-time Irish and Celtic champion and his contingent of fans.

Despite defeat, Jones has set his sights on turning professional and hopes for his first paid fight in November.

"It was a split decision so it could have gone either way. I thought I won the first two rounds so I'm disappointed but I'll take a lot out of it," he said.

Defeat in Ireland, in the WKA championship, came just months after Jones, a fitness instructor at Burntwood Leisure Centre, had won the world super-lightweight title against Bath opponent Gio Marchese.

Jones is a member of Platinum Kickboxing Club, which already has six other belt holders on its books. One, Sean Daley, holds European, English and British titles. Platinum Gym is in Cobbett Road, Burntwood.

Saddlers looking to recruit 60

DOZENS of jobs are being created at Walsall Football Club as it aims to host more conferences and events.

A new club lounge is opening this month, and The Saddlers say they are taking on up to 60 workers to run the bars, kitchens and kiosks.

The Banks's Stadium already hosts weddings, dinners, cabaret shows and private functions. Chiefs say the recruitment drive will make it one of the leading venues in the Midlands.

It comes as the 1888 Club lounge prepares to open, creating 10 jobs, which will be a mix of full and part time positions.

The suite will feature a pitch view, a bar and five television screens.

'Wacka' help bid could put Villa in safe hands

WALSALL FC's all-time record appearance holder is stepping in to help save an amateur team on the brink of closure.

Pelsall Villa FC, which has been running for 116 years, will fold unless people come forward to help run the club and stump up cash.

Former Saddlers goalkeeper Jimmy Walker has offered to hold a sportsman's evening to raise money – and bosses have said his input and help might just save the club.

"Wacka" was contacted by the club on Twitter and said he would like to get involved with helping the Villa get back on its feet.

It is hoped Walker, who made 534 appearances for the Saddlers, will appear at an event at Pelsall Social Club in late July and details are being arranged in the coming days.

Player/manager Andrew Bentley said: "He asked if there was anything he could do so it looks like he will do this evening for us.

Speaker

"Usually it can cost up to a couple of thousand pounds to get a speaker in and organise it, so this would save us money and bring a lot in, which would sort us out for a while."

The public have also emailed club chiefs offering to help at the ground since the local press reported on their plight recently and showed how bad things have become.

Mr Bentley added: "Some people have said they could come and help so it's starting to look better now. It's all hands on deck because we have so much to do and not enough people."

Football

Plans for the future will be drawn up at a public meeting tonight at 7.30pm at Pelsall Villa's Bush ground in Walsall Road.

The stand was recently revamped using grants but the club has fallen into disarray as former players Mark Bentley and Shaun Mason struggle to take on all the roles themselves.

Mr Bentley said they hope the two clubs will work together to find a solution.

Records show that football was played in Pelsall as long ago as 1898.

The two world wars meant football took a back seat for a few years, but the club reformed in 1961, which heralded the start of Pelsall Villa as it is known today. The club attracted one of its biggest attendances in 1991 when Aston Villa stars turned out for a match celebrating floodlights being installed.

The team went on to enjoy one of its most successful periods – getting to within three games of making it to Wembley in the FA Vase in 1992/93 before narrowly losing out to an extra-time own goal at the hands of Buckingham Town.

Muddy hell for Dominic at Hawkstone race

Well, they got the bike out...Cannock motocross rider Dominic Arnold was one of many to find the going sticky at Shropshire's Hawkstone Park. Competing in the 85/150F Inters, he got bogged down at the bottom of a hill and was unable to get clear. Dad Paul dashed on, dodging other machines and got the bike off. But with Dominic still stuck, back came dad to help and the two had to shed their boots and crawl for it.

Wolves have an eye on Wilson

WOLVES are one of four Championship clubs chasing Coventry striker Callum Wilson.

Head coach Kenny Jackett has now followed up his enquiry in January with firmer interest in the 22-year-old hotshot, who Coventry rate at up to £3m. Wilson, who scored 22 goals last season, is also on the radar of Bournemouth, who have serious financial clout now they are under Russian ownership, but not Nottingham Forest.

Wolves are unlikely to bid as high as £3m, but they have signalled their intentions to the Sky Blues and it is understood they have asked to be kept informed of developments.

Coventry development director Steve Waggart said: "At the moment our view is that Callum is not for sale."

Secure
"We have had approaches from four Championship clubs who are keen to secure the services of one of the best young strikers around."

"As it stands we have rebuffed and rejected all offers that have come in," added Mr Waggart.

"We've had what I would call four firm enquiries all together, comprising two written bids, one quite firm verbal offer and one indicative enquiry."

Get back form call to Doyle

WOLVES striker Kevin Doyle has been urged to get back to the player he was by Ireland boss Martin O'Neill.

Doyle scored Ireland's goal with a bullet header from distance in Friday's 1-1 draw with Costa Rica, the first of two friendlies Ireland are playing in the United States, with Portugal in New Jersey tomorrow.

It was his first for his country since he scored against Oman in September 2012 and his 13th in 58 internationals.

Doyle is hoping for another chance in the Premier League.

It was his second promotion of the season after winning a League One title winner's medal, scoring three goals in 23 appearances for Wolves.

Doyle has struggled to show the form that made him such a coveted asset at Wolves.

Jackett 'won't be enticed from Molineux'

Football

WOLVES players today insisted boss Kenny Jackett will resist any temptation to be lured from Molineux to lead the club back to the Premier League.

Head coach Jackett is at the start of a rebuilding job from which he hopes to lead Wolves back to the top flight.

The 52-year-old, who is on a rolling one-year contract, has caught the eye in his first year in charge after a stunning first season when he led Wolves to a record-breaking League One title success.

Michael Jacobs, who Jackett signed from Derby, believes other clubs will have sat up and taken notice. But the midfielder believes his gaffer is at Molineux for the long haul. "He went under the radar at clubs he was at before but when you're doing the job he's done here, you're going to get noticed," said Jacobs.

"This was a great opportunity for him but he's taken it and done well."

"But he wants to take the club to the Premier League and that will be his objective over the next couple of years."

"He's got the capabilities to do that. He brought me here and I couldn't thank him enough - he's transformed my career in bringing me here."

Winger James Henry, who Jackett has signed for Millwall and now Wolves said: "This is probably the first time he's managed a big club and you can tell he's enjoyed it."

"He's relished the challenge and he's taken it on."

"I definitely think he can take the club a long way."

"He's the right man for the job. I'm sure whoever put their faith in him last summer is very happy they did so." Henry added: "He's the guy who always demands more from you."

"I think he's brilliant and he's been fantastic for my career."

"He signed me from Reading for Millwall and we understand each other - we don't say too much to each other because we know what the other one expects."

"He's done a superb job here and he has to take a lot of credit."

"The boys did fantastically well last season and it's a pleasure to play with this group of lads."

Boost as Chambers signs up

WALSALL utility defender James Chambers has signed a new deal with the Saddlers to give manager Dean Smith a boost in his summer rebuild.

The 33-year-old twin brother of midfielder Adam has agreed another one-year deal to stay at The Banks's Stadium.

The agreement leaves Smith focusing on left-back Andy Taylor, one of the team's top performers last season who is also out of contract.

Talks with the 28-year-old will resume when he returns from a coaching course but Smith, who has lost his defensive kingpin Andy Butler and is looking for a replacement for top scorer Craig Westcarr, is optimistic that Lancashire-based Taylor will agree a new deal.

He said: "We're on course with Andy. He's on a coaching course at the moment and we will speak again when he is finished. But he is motivated to stick with us, he enjoys it here and he is committed to what we are trying to do."

"He is happy to move but we have to come up with the financial package that will make that worthwhile."

Midlands trio are cup seeds

WOLVES, Walsall and Birmingham City have all been seeded for the Capital One Cup first round draw.

The three West Midlands teams are all in the southern half of the draw, which will be made next Tuesday at 10am.

The seedings means they can't play each other at the first-round stage.

VAN IS THE WING MAN FOR WOLVES

WOLVES have their second summer signing with the arrival of Dutch winger Rajiv van La Parra.

The 23-year-old winger is out of contract with top-flight Dutch club Heerenveen and has signed a three-year deal at Molineux after choosing Wolves ahead of several clubs.

A skilful and pacy winger, van La Parra has been capped by the Netherlands all the way through to the Under-21s, and Wolves have been tracking the star for the last 18 months.

Last season, van La Parra made 32 appearances, scoring five goals and added six assists as Heerenveen finished fifth in the Dutch Eredivisie, totalling 86 appearances and 14 goals in his three years there.

Wolves head coach Kenny Jackett said: "He's a talented winger who can play on either side and will be a good addition to that area of the squad."

Determined

"He's also an ambitious and driven character who is determined to make an impression in English football."

Van La Parra said: "I'm very happy to sign and it's a good step for my career."

"Wolves is a big club with a big history and it's good for me to come here and try to play a lot of games."

"I like English football and the way teams play and hopefully it's something I'll fit in to."

"People here live for football and I have that same feeling - hopefully I can show the supporters and everyone at Wolves some good things." "It's a physical challenge where you have to be tough in the duels in the Championship but the aim for all of us is to try to go to the Premier League."

Football

Van La Parra knows a bit of Wolves' history through their famous Dutch import - John De Wolf.

"I know of John De Wolf because he was a big player for Feyenoord and I'm a supporter of Feyenoord!" he said.

"I haven't really spoken with people who have played here but certainly with people who know this league and how they see it."

"I ask what they'd think if I signed for Wolves and for some information and they always give me good advice."

"I took that advice to make my decision and I'm delighted to be here."

"It will be easy to settle here and I know the language too."

Van La Parra started his career at Feyenoord, then spent three seasons at French side Caen before joining ung and was signed by Caen in summer 2008.

After three seasons with the French club he moved to Heerenveen.
